The War Today

By GUY RHOADES

FRANCE APPEARS likely to receive her armistice terms within a day or two, amidst a growing feeling that they may be too harsh to accept and growing evidence that the will-to-peace of the new French government does not represent the will of the whole people.

Refugees reaching the Swiss frontier reported the Nazi blitz-machinery was beginning to show signs of severe wear and tear and that roads over which they traveled were cluttered with abandoned tanks, trucks and motorcycles which had collapsed under the terrific strain they had undergone in the last three weeks.

SOME FIGHT LEFT

Apparently the command of the French southern army held some hope of further fighting, for when the German spearhead aimed at the undefended city of Lyons in its drive down the Rhone Valley reached it the French line opened, then snapped shut again, apparently in a plan to cut the Germans off if peace terms are rejected.

There were other signs that there was no unanimous French desire to quit. One was the gesture of the admiral in command of the important Mediterranean naval base at Toulon who declared in a proclamation that government orders creating open towns did not apply to Toulon and that the city would be defended unhesitatingly.

There were persistent rumors, too, that Marshal Petain's government would not last and that the seat of the administration might be moved to North Africa and the fight continued from there.

STALLING

Meanwhile Hitler apparently was stalling for time before negotiating with the French for an armistice. In Rome it was suggested that France would be almost completely occupied by the time an armistice is granted—if Hitler's terms are accepted. So the stalling appeared to have a purpose.

The Germans still drove on and forced 50,000 Maginot Line troops to cross the Swiss border after blocking their attempt to cut their way through and join the southern army.

In Britain it was not conceded that the French definitely were finished, but the nation went about its precautions as if they were.

NIGHTLY RAIDS

No one expects that the air raids of the last two mornings represent the maximum effort the Nazis will put into their aerial onslaught. These are probably exploratory operations designed to test the possibilities of the situation.

While the Germans bomb Britain the Royal Air Force nightly pounds German cities, smashing up factories, airports, railway yards, oil stores and docks.

Radio listeners in England can get a strange thrill from listening to German stations, particularly Hamburg and Bremen. They play excellent music and one can tell when the R.A.F. is active over Germany. The stations suddenly shut down, occasionally after the cry "Achtung" (lookout) has been heard on the air.

It affords a satisfactory evening at home in the blackout.

Budget Speech Delayed Till Monday

OTTAWA (CP)—The budget will be presented on Monday, Finance Minister Ralston told the House of Commons this afternoon. He said "important and imperative matters" made it impossible to present it on Friday as previously planned.

No Pressure on Egypt

LONDON (CP)—Authoritative circles today denied Britain was trying to force Egypt into the war. Rumors to that effect are "most definitely untrue," these circles said.

Revolts Against Italy

LONDON (CP)—Reuter's news agency in a dispatch from Jibuti, French Somaliland, said revolt against the Italians were beginning in each province of Ethiopia.

Final Bulletins

2 BOMB BLASTS IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK (AP)—Two explosions, both apparently caused by bombs, occurred within an hour today—the first in the offices of a German banking firm and the second in the building housing the principal offices of the Communist Party.

Nine persons were injured in the first blast on the 18th floor at 17 Battery Place, which houses the German consulate-general and other foreign agencies and shipping concerns.

Witnesses said a bomb secreted in a package wrapped in brown paper exploded in the four-room suite of a German foreign exchange firm.

Persons in the East 12th Street Building, housing the offices of the Communist newspaper, the Daily Worker; Earl Browder, general secretary of the Communist Party, and the national and New York state headquarters of the party, expressed a belief a bomb exploded there in a ground-floor or basement store.

Pounded By R.A.F.

LONDON (CP)—The Air Ministry announced tonight that Royal Air Force planes had raided a wide area in Germany during last night, including Munich, Gladbach, Hamm and Brunswick.

FIGHT WEIGHTS

NEW YORK (AP)—Joe Louis tipped the scales at the lowest figure since he won the heavyweight title from Jimmy Braddock in 1937 when he weighed in today for defence of his crown against Arturo Godoy of Chile at the Yankee Stadium tonight.

The champion weighed 199 pounds, 1½ pounds more than the night he knocked out Braddock and four less than when he out-pointed Godoy last February. The Chilean weighed 201½ pounds.

Test in Commons

OTTAWA (CP)—John H. Blackmore, leader of the New Democracy party, moved an amendment to the mobilization bill in the House of Commons this afternoon, calling on the Bank of Canada to finance Canada's war effort.

Mr. Blackmore was urging adoption of the financial policy of the Social Credit Party.

Heads Kiwanis

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Election of Mark A. Smith of Thomaston, Ga., as 1940-1941 president of Kiwanis International was announced today at the annual convention. He succeeds Bennett O. Knudson of Alberta Lea, Minn.

Robert J. Prittle, Winnipeg, is vice-president for Canada.

Duke of Windsor Goes to Spain

CANNES, France (CP, delayed)—The Duke of Windsor left his Riviera residence by automobile today, headed for Spain. The Duchess already had departed.

The Duke had been in the south of France since late May, after leaving his post as liaison officer between the French and British armies.

Shortly before the Duke departed today, he was reported to have told the British consul at Cannes he did not plan to return to England, but probably would go to Spain. He mentioned using a yacht or plane, although he left Cap d'Antibes by motorcar. (To reach Spain by motor he would have to circle the Gulf of Lions, some 200 miles.)

Exact destination of the Duke and whereabouts of the Duchess were not known here.

NO ARREST

LONDON (CP)—Fantastic rumors about the Duke of Windsor and his American wife became sufficiently general today in their spread from tea-table to knitting circle that the Ministry of Information announced: "It is a ridiculous suggestion that an order has been made or contemplated for the arrest of the Duke of Windsor."

Turks Move

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP)—Turkish dispatched thousands of additional troops to the Bulgarian frontier today as a precautionary move. Many vehicles were commandeered in the military preparations.

Decision Soon at Bordeaux

France May Know Her Fate Tonight

Though there has been no indication of the price France must pay for cessation of fighting, today's map shows the parts of France proper likely to be ceded: To Italy, Nice and Savoy; to Germany, Alsace-Lorraine; to Belgium (or becoming a German vassal), the French Channel-region from Cherbourg to Belgium; and, to Spain, the French Basque country.

BORDEAUX, France (AP)—Informed observers say the word from Hitler which will govern France's action toward or against an armistice and peace is expected some time during the night.

The French council of ministers met for an hour and a half during the day with President Lebrun, but the official communiqué on the meeting did not give the reason for the session.

LONDON (CP)—Reuter's news agency reported from Bordeaux tonight that the French government had announced its decision to leave Bordeaux "in order that it may be considered an open town."

Marshal Petain, French Premier, informed the mayor of Bordeaux that the government had decided to leave today "to avoid useless destruction of the town."

Bordeaux was raided last night by German bombers.

LONDON (AP)—Spanish dispatches from Bordeaux today said that former Premier Pierre Laval would replace Marshal Henri Petain as French premier. (Dispatches from Bordeaux, temporary French capital, did not indicate a change in the premiership is impending.)

DELEGATES ACCEPTED

BERLIN (AP)—The Berlin radio declared today that the French government had informed Germany that its delegates for armistice negotiations were General Charles Huntziger, Ambassador Leon Noel, Vice-Admiral Lehoucq and Aviation General Bergeret.

MAY CEASE TOMORROW

ROME (AP)—In a dispatch from Bern, Switzerland, the Italian news agency Stefani today

said French plenipotentiaries who are to receive Germany's armistice terms have had a meeting with German representatives.

The dispatch did not say where the meeting took place. It said it expected hostilities would cease Friday or Saturday. (Bordeaux dispatches indicated the French government might reject the Nazi terms as too severe and continue the war.)

Petain Tells Why He Asked Armistice

BORDEAUX, France (AP)—Premier Henri Petain told the French people today that he asked Germany for an armistice "because the military situation failed (to justify) our hopes based on the line of the Somme and the Aisne."

"General Weygand regrouped our armies; his name alone was a presage of victory," Marshal Petain said in a broadcast.

"However, the line gave way and the enemy pressure forced our troops to retreat. "On June 13 I asked for an armistice."

FEWER TROOPS

Contrasting the last war with this struggle, Petain said at the beginning of the "present battle France had 500,000 less troops than the 3,200,000 she had after three years of the first Great War.

"In May, 1918," he went on, "we had 85 British divisions; in May, 1940, we had 10. "In 1918 we had 58 Italian divisions and 42 American divisions with us. "He pointed out that Italy is fighting on the side of Germany and that the United States is neutral.

"The inferiority of our material," he said, "was even greater than that of our manpower. French aviation had been fighting its battle one against six."

Every people, he said sadly, must know days of success and days of defeat.

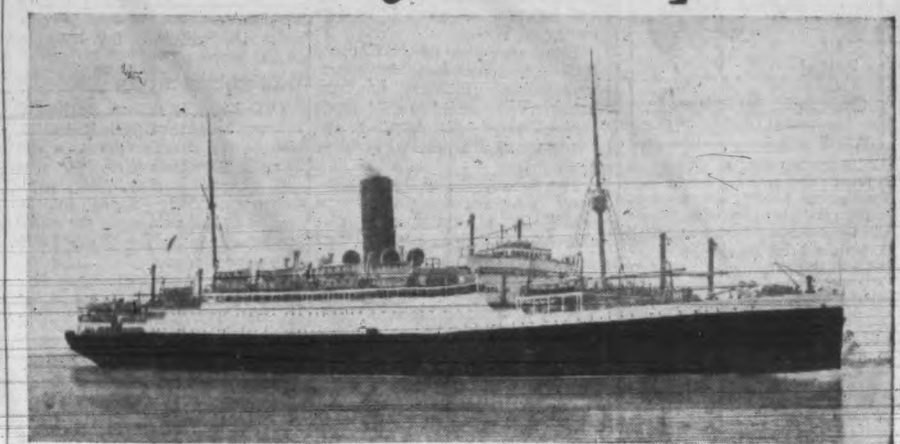

"Today France is a witness to sad days. I was with you in your days of glory. I am and will remain with you in your days of sadness."

The French, he said, "do not deny defeat when it stares them in the face."

"All peoples have known successes and reverses. It is by their reaction that they show themselves weak or great. We will learn our lesson from the last battle."

"Since our victory a sense of enjoyment has predominated over the sense of sacrifice. We have sought more than we have given. We have not exerted enough effort. Today we are in distress."

Sunk by Torpedo

H.M.S. ANDANIA

LONDON (CP)—An admiralty statement today said: "The secretary of the Admiralty regrets to announce that the armed merchant cruiser, H.M.S. Andania (Capt. Bain, R.N.) was torpedoed by a U-boat and subsequently sank. Two members of the crew were injured. There were no other casualties and the entire ship's company had been landed at a British port."

"H.M. Trawler, Juniper Lieut. Commander G. S. Grenfell, R.N.), which was operating in northern Norwegian waters, is now overdue and must be considered lost."

"The next of kin have been informed that her crew are missing, but it may be possible that some of them may be prisoners of war."

Censors ordered newspapers to refrain from giving details of the engagement or circumstances of the Andania incident.

The Andania was a 13,950-ton liner belonging to the Cunard White Star Company. She is the fourth British armed cruiser lost since the war began. Before the war she was in service between United Kingdom and Canadian ports. She was 520 feet in length and was built in Newcastle in 1922.

Alsace Army Fights; Nazis Occupy Lyons; 50,000 French Intern

BORDEAUX (AP)—Using the famous hollow square formation, French Maginot Line troops of the army of Alsace and Lorraine are attempting to fight their way through German troops which have bottled up their last avenues of escape by a march to the Swiss frontier, a French War Office spokesman said tonight.

He reported German motorized units cut northeast from Lyons today to Bellegarde on the Swiss frontier 15 miles from Geneva.

In the west, he added, there was fighting 15 miles south of Nantes, at the mouth of the Loire River.

Along the line of the Loire, the French central army withdrew a few miles south of Tours to the Cher River, which parallels the Loire due east almost to Bourges, where it drops to the south.

The French government still was in Bordeaux tonight.

German elements occupied the manufacturing city of Lyons early today after a drive down the Allier and Rhone valleys, French authorities reported.

At the same time, it was estimated unofficially more than 60 were killed in Bordeaux in a German air bombardment during the night, the city's first of the war.

Five German paratroopers dropping behind the fighting front during the night were arrested, the French said.

A second alert was sounded in Bordeaux from 6:30 to 7:15 a.m. (7:30 p.m. to 8:15 p.m., P.S.T.), but apparently there were no incidents.

Reports from Lyons, slightly more than 200 miles from Paris and about the same distance from Marseille, Mediterranean port, said the city was calm and public services were functioning.

Bordeaux Spreads Many Rumors

A wide variety of reports circulated as the French government awaited word from Hitler stating when and where he would disclose to the French envoys his price for stopping the war against France.

Most of the reports—all without confirmation—seemed to carry in common the implication that France might find the Hitler peace terms too harsh and attempt to fight on, perhaps from French North Africa.

One report said President Albert Lebrun, Edouard Herriot, president of the Chamber of Deputies, and Jules Jeanneney, president of the Senate, had gone or were ready to go, to Algiers to preserve the framework of a government which would continue the war, even though Nazi armies might occupy all France.

Another report was that the French government had learned the gist of Germany's major terms and found them unacceptable.

It was pointed out that if France should choose to continue the fight from Africa, she and Britain could squeeze Italian Libya.

(A large part of the French army presumably is in the Mediterranean area, and in Spain it was said French military planes had been flying in large numbers from France to North Africa. It was reported today from Geneva, however, that French warplanes and troops from North Africa had crossed the Mediterranean to help the French armies in France halt the German drive in the south-east.)

No Defence Made By Lyons Troops

LYONS, France (CP-Havas)—Lyons, France's third largest city, was occupied early today by the vanguard of German forces pushing down the Rhone Valley.

With its normal population of about 600,000 swelled to well over 1,000,000 by the streams of refugees flowing southward in front of the invading Nazis, no attempt was made to defend the city. Lyons was included in the government declaration of two days ago that all French towns and cities of more than 20,000 population were "open cities."

Correspondent Sees Invaders

A Havas correspondent succeeded in getting this dispatch off to Bordeaux even while the first contingents of German troops entered the suburbs.

Only a few trucks and armored cars appeared on the main avenue of the city, the Rue de la Republique, immediately.

The city was calm under occupation. Emil Bollaert, prefect of the Rhone department, was at his post, as well as representatives of the municipal administration, and Pierre-Marie Cardinal Gerlier, Archbishop of Lyons.

Public services were functioning, but the streets were deserted. All policemen, disarmed, were waiting their beats as usual.

The light advance detachments passing up the Rue de la Republique were expected to be followed by heavier ones very shortly. All bridges were guarded by soldiers.

The local authorities addressed the following appeal to the population:

"The duty of every Frenchman in the circumstances is to maintain perfect dignity, with complete mastery of himself. . . .

"Your calmness will above all be a proof of the strength of soul which the present hour requires and which will inspire respect in everybody."

French Close in After Nazis Pass

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP)—French defence lines literally opened the way for German motorized columns to capture Lyons today—and then "swallowed" the invaders by closing ranks outside the city again.

If the French reject Germany's peace terms, it was said, Nazi troops in Lyons and other captured French cities may find themselves cut off.

The German columns were permitted to pass unmolested through the French lines en route to Lyons when the city was declared "open" this morning to save it from destruction.

Previously, until the word of Lyons' "open" status came at dawn, the city—third largest in France—had been defended by the reorganizing French army.

50,000 French Cross Into Switzerland

GUMMOIS, France (AP)—A contingent of French Maginot Line troops, totaling about 50,000, crossed into Switzerland today and laid down their arms.

These forces, led by two generals, had attempted to blast a way through the German forces holding the central Jura gate in order to reach the French army in the south. Unable to do this, the troops crossed into neutral Switzerland.

In the late afternoon, with the flow of soldiers across the border continuing at many points, officials estimated 28,000 soldiers had been disarmed and sent to the internment points.

These included 16,000 Poles and 12,000 French. Also brought across the frontier were 7,800 horses.

Swiss frontier posts at mountain passes between La Chaux de Fonds and Porrentruy were disarming the troops. Despite the crush, the Swiss army, forewarned of the rush expected across the frontier, kept the newcomers moving.

The Swiss commander, General Henri Guisan, was supervising the work. Columns after column of those who entered hailed the Swiss officers and soldiers with "Vive la Suisse."

Toulon Ready To Defend Itself

LONDON (CP)—The French radio said today a proclamation declaring Toulon would be defended with all available means.

If attacked by enemy forces had been issued by the vice-admiral in command of the port. Toulon is a military and naval port on the Mediterranean southeast of Marseille.

Quiet Journey For Athlones

MONCTON, N.B. (CP)—Canada's new Governor-General, the Earl of Athlone, and his wife, the Princess Alice, took a stroll in Moncton today while their special train stopped here en route to Ottawa from Halifax. Hundreds of persons were at the railway station.

Soon after the train had arrived the earl and his lady, followed by their aides to the platform, mingled with the throng and walked along half a dozen blocks of city streets.

Their only guard was three policemen who followed in the rear.

Tientsin Blockade Lifted By Japanese

TOKYO (CP)—The Japanese Foreign Office announced the Tientsin blockade had been lifted at noon today (7 p.m., P.S.T., Wednesday) following signature of an agreement with Britain and France.

The Japanese army had maintained barricades around the British and French concessions in the northern China city since June 14, 1939, during a controversy over "terrorist" acts in Tientsin and over the question of silver reserves deposited by the Chinese government in banks in the British and French concessions.

In Tientsin, Lieut. Gen. Masaharu Homma, commander of the Japanese garrison, said the lifting of the barriers was a trial measure, and the Japanese reserved the right to reimpose their restrictions should they believe it necessary.

Roosevelt Forms Coalition Cabinet

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt took steps today to form a coalition cabinet today by submitting to the United States Senate the nominations of Col. Frank Knox to be Secretary of the Navy and Henry L. Stimson to be Secretary of War.

Knox, publisher of the Chicago Daily News, was Republican vice-presidential candidate in 1936. Stimson was Secretary of State in the Hoover administration and Secretary of War under President Taft.

The submission of the nominations was accompanied by a White House announcement—without explanation—that Secretary Woodring had resigned his cabinet portfolio, effective on Senate confirmation of the nomination of his successor.

White House officials did say that Woodring's letter of resignation was "so personal" that the usual custom would not be followed and it would not be made public.

Knox will succeed Charles Edison, whose resignation as Navy Secretary will become effective June 24. Edison quit the cabinet job to run for governor of New Jersey on the Democratic slate.

The White House made no announcement regarding the two men selected from Republican ranks for cabinet positions, other than to make public the fact that their names were sent to the Senate.

DEBATED FOR WEEKS

The question of a coalition cabinet had been debated almost since the beginning of the present crisis in Europe.

The discussion reached a peak when Col. Knox and subsequently Alf M. Landon, the 1936 Republican Presidential nominee, visited the White House a few days ago.

Today's nominations, coming only four days before the opening of the Republican National Convention in Philadelphia, caught Washington unawares and set congressional and political circles abuzz with talk over its bearing on presidential politics.

Both Knox and Stimson, on occasion, have endorsed the administration's foreign policy.

Knox has been, for a Republican, a relatively frequent consultant of Mr. Roosevelt's.

It was he who recently organized civilian committees to promote the program for training 50,000 plane pilots.

WAS ROUGH RIDER

Col. Knox is 66. A native of Boston, he served with Theodore Roosevelt's Rough Riders in the Spanish-American War. He was overseas from May, 1918, until February, 1919, serving in the United States artillery. He holds his colonelcy in the 356th Field Artillery Reserve.

The 73-year-old Stimson, like Knox, served with the artillery in France. He became a colonel in 1918. Born in New York City, after a career in law and politics he was Secretary of War under President Taft, Governor-General of the Philippines, Secretary of State under President Hoover, chairman of the American delegation to the 1930 London Naval Conference, and chairman of the American delegation in the 1932 Disarmament Conference.

Through letters to newspapers and otherwise he has been a supporter of Cordell Hull's policies in the State Department.

SUGGESTION AT OTTAWA

OTTAWA (CP)—The example of President Roosevelt in moving to include two Republicans in his cabinet might well be followed in Canada, Conservative Leader Hanson suggested this afternoon in the House of Commons.

Steps taken to include Col. Frank Knox and Henry L. Stimson in the United States administration should provide "additional incentive for the formation of a truly national government in Canada," he said.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King said he still had in mind Mr. Hanson's suggestion along those lines of a few years ago. He would make an announcement "a little later on" regarding expansion of the cabinet, as he had previously indicated.

Thousands of Anzacs Reach British Port

A NORTHERN BRITISH PORT (CP)—Thousands of fighting Anzacs, who sailed all the way from Australia and New Zealand in great liners without seeing one German plane, have thronged into the British Isles, shouting for "a chance at Jerry."

Packed into an array of world-famous ships whose names were covered with gray paint nine months ago, the volunteers and their escort gave this port one of its greatest spectacles of the war.

Seven months of training in the Antipodes had bronzed them and schooled them for battle to defend the heart of the British empire.

The transports, thronged with cheering men in khaki, were a great show for the comparatively small crowd permitted to witness their arrival some days ago.

Just as impressive were the "gray dispositions" of the navy that guarded the journey.

What might have been a submarine caused the protesting men-of-war to drop depth charges, but the only other sights all the way round the Cape were a tanker burning and the wreckage of another ship.

TRULY EMPIRE FRONT

War Secretary Anthony Eden, who flew to Egypt as Dominions Secretary last January to glad-hand the first of the Anzacs, sent a message saying "You come at a timely hour. We now can present to our enemy a truly imperial front—a front which as he has learned from experience in the past, has never been and never will be broken by him."

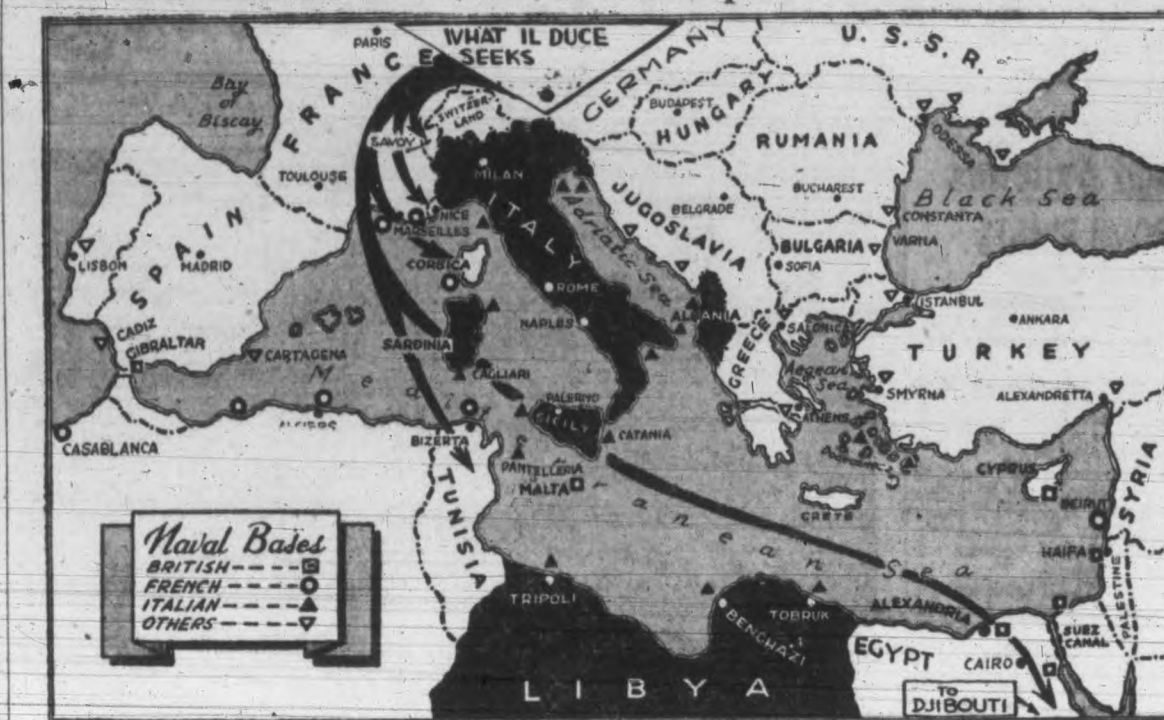

When Geoffrey Shakespeare, Parliamentary Secretary for Dominions, was making his speech,

Dictators Discuss Division of the Spoils

Hitler and Mussolini conferred in Munich this week, while German industrial allies in the Rhineland and the Ruhr still smoldered from British bombs, dropped by the R.A.F. as a token of Britain's inflexible determination to carry on the war. Authoritative sources in Germany said Hitler would be satisfied with nothing less than unconditional

Britain Can Stand Siege and Survive

Bruce Hutchison, Victoria Times columnist, broadcast last night from New York over a national hook-up his conclusions after 10 days in Washington during which he attended President Roosevelt's press conferences and interviewed national leaders.

"First conclusion that one is bound to take home to Canada is that if Britain can stand the siege for a few months until the autumn, America will come to its rescue," Mr. Hutchison said. "I am in a position to say that the American government believes Britain can stand the siege and can survive."

"The new feeling in Washington is the siege can be withstood if we get the French navy and we seem to be getting it. Naturally, there is great disagreement in the highest circles on England's fate, but I talked with men who I know to share the President's mind and they feel now as they didn't feel a few days ago, that Britain has a good chance."

"That the United States is re-doubling its aid to Britain was indicated by Tuesday, announcement that 20 small war vessels about to be delivered to the hard-pressed American navy are being turned over to the British government immediately."

URGENT TO "HANG ON"

"No one I have talked to in Washington doubts that by autumn America's aid will be very great, including airplanes on a large scale, and no one doubts that if Britain hangs on, the United States will be in the war. In fact, America is in the war now and knows it."

"If it went to war formally tomorrow, there is nothing, absolutely nothing, more in a material way that it could give Britain over and above what it is giving now. It could give only a stronger moral support, but even the strongest interventionists fear that a declaration of war, by causing hysteria and confusion and political division here at home, would injure rather than help Britain. There can be no doubt that the American government has urged Winston Churchill to hang on, to wait of America to the limit when this country has got its industrial plant mobilized."

STARVATION BLOCKADE

"The war thus has settled down to a siege of Britain and a complete blockade of continental Europe, backed by the Americas, which will sell no goods to any country under Germany's domination. Through America's decision, Hitler now faces the gravest dangers of his career, the spectre of starvation next winter, of every kind of shortage in the sinews of war."

"The second conclusion one reaches here is that America will produce during the next two years the mightiest military machine the world has ever known, more powerful even than Hitler's. This country has just realized that it has now no military machine at all, only a navy. For years it has believed its own baloney about the great American air force, the invincible navy bombers, and it awakes to find that it has at best 2,000 first line planes and not one of them modern by European standards; 75,000 equipped troops, no tanks, a few guns, in all a pitiful military establishment not adequate for a fifth-class Balkan nation. With busy at itself, with bitter disillusionment and hurt pride this

NANAIMO (CP)—John Dean of Nanaimo said today he had received word his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Dean Sr., who were aboard the Canadian-Australasian liner Niagara, have landed safely in New Zealand.

The Niagara was sunk by an enemy mine off the New Zealand coast last Tuesday.

R.A.F. Bags Planes On Nazi Fields

LONDON (CP)—While German planes were raiding the British Isles last night, Royal Air Force bombers were at work in Germany.

The Air Ministry issued this communique on the operations: "Yesterday afternoon and evening successful attacks were carried out by bombers of the Royal Air Force on enemy aircraft on the ground at airbases near Amiens and Rouen. Hangars were also set on fire."

"Throughout last night military objectives and communications in the Ruhr, Rhineland and west Germany were heavily bombed."

"In these operations one of our aircraft was lost."

BIG BAG IN FRANCE

A later Air Ministry communique gave the following details of the raids on German airbases in France:

"Aircraft on the ground were destroyed. Petrol tanks were set alight and hangars wrecked during daylight attacks on two airbases carried out by medium bombers. At Rouen 25 or more enemy aircraft were dispersed around the airbase. Attackers bombing from various heights and in rapid succession scored numbers of direct hits on hangars, the tarmac and scattered aircraft. Several aircraft burst into flames. Late in the evening another strong force of medium bombers attacked an enemy-occupied airbase near Amiens."

"One of the three main hangars and a large aircraft standing nearby were set alight in the first sortie, which was quickly followed by a still heavier attack in which 12 aircraft on the ground were destroyed by high explosive bombs. Many others were damaged."

"Hits were also scored on two remaining hangars and a sudden outbreak of fire which spread rapidly among the buildings suggested that a petrol dump had been struck and the fuel set alight. Intense fire of heavy-calibre gun batteries all around Amiens was experienced. But skilful evasive action by bomber pilots and the poor light of the gathering dusk combined to frustrate ground defences. All our aircraft returned safely to their bases."

Nazis Lose 4 Planes, Kill 8 in Britain

LONDON (CP)—Bomber fleets of Nazi Luftwaffe swept across England and Scotland today in the second of their long-threatened mass attacks, promising dropping high explosives that caused comparatively minor damage but added another six names to the list of civilian deaths.

(A communique tonight said 2 more deaths had been reported making the total 8.)

Authoritative sources said more than 160 planes took part in the raid, most extensive of the war.

In a series of raids that kept air raid alarms in effect in some districts for five hours, the German planes penetrated a hail of anti-aircraft fire and flew inland over a wide area extending as far as south Wales districts.

Reports showed the latest series of raids which lasted from late last night till daybreak, caused in addition to the six deaths, injuries to 60 other persons, making a total of at least 24 English civilians dead and 230 injured since the outbreak of the war.

The death list in today's raid was announced as follows: Mrs. Nancy Ramsbottom, 65, and her daughter, Miss Beatrice Ramsbottom, 21; Mrs. L. Parkinson, Mrs. Annie Barton, 51; Mrs. John Wilkinson, John Punton, 54.

Places of residence and other details were not disclosed. Punt was struck by shrapnel while warning the public.

It was announced officially that the defence forces destroyed three enemy planes, and probably four.

LIST OF VICTIMS

The attack followed by just one day raids which, although less extensive, took a toll of 12 killed and 30 injured.

The attacks began shortly before midnight (3 p.m., P.S.T.) and lasted until just before dawn. The raiders ranged from the south coast up the east coast to Scotland, across to northwest England, and then southward on the west-coast of Wales.

FIRES EXTINGUISHED

A communique from the air ministry and the ministry of home security said:

"During the night enemy aircraft carried out further attacks on this country."

"A number of bombs were dropped on the northeast coast. Damage was done in three towns, but fires which were caused were all brought under control."

"Other bombs fell at scattered points in Lincolnshire, in the south of England and in south Wales."

"Anti-aircraft defences were in action and fighter aircraft went up. At least three enemy aircraft were shot down and others were damaged."

The Nazis appeared to have changed their lines of attack, aiming more at the industrial areas than on the night before, authoritative sources said, adding that the damage caused to factory buildings was not of great importance."

FIRST TASTE OF ACTION

By dropping bombs in northwest England and Wales, the Germans gave many of the defending forces their first taste of action in the war. A furious resistance was stirred everywhere. Anti-aircraft fire was loud and long, and little British fighter planes poured streams of machine gun bullets at the invaders.

One person was reported to have died of shock in a south coast town. Most of the casualties were in northeast England, where witnesses said there were three separate raids during the night.

The bombs which fell in the southern part of Wales, now a reception area for evacuees from London, were the first of the war there. Anti-aircraft guns fired, and fighter planes went up. The bombs fell in the sea, in the open country and on buildings. The alarm lasted 80 minutes.

Victoria Homes For U.K. Children

Vancouver Island, according to population, is expected to give refuge to more British children than any other place in Canada.

Many Victorians, with relatives and close friends in England have cabled there in recent days offering to take children into their homes "for the duration."

"Wealthy retired English people who have come to Vancouver Island in recent years will also do their bit in this regard. They feel it is their duty, because they are away from the menace of German bombs, to open their homes to the youngsters they left behind in Britain."

"My home is open to as many as I can accommodate—I'll give them the best care I can," said one Englishwoman, recently settled on Vancouver Island.

"We have 10 acres—and the children won't mind sleeping in tents—they're all welcome," said another.

A pioneer family had a cablegram yesterday from a relative in England asking if they would take his little girl and the family cabled back that they would look after the child and any other relatives that cared to come here.

Between 50 and 80 Victoria women have registered in recent days with the Community Chest. All said they would take children into their homes, free of charge.

In addition to these several hundred Victoria women, who registered last autumn, said they would look after refugee children should the necessity arise.

Plans are now near completion in England for sending 10,000 British children to Canada within the next two or three weeks. Each child must be between 5 and 16 years of age. A cross section of British school life will be selected, poor children, rich children, Scottish, Welsh, English—those from cities and farms. Each will have to pass a medical examination.

Whole schools, whether public or private, will not be sent to retain their educational identity in Canada, but pupils will be scattered throughout the country and absorbed into the Canadian school system.

Several liners will be chartered and it is expected 10,000 children will travel across the Atlantic at one time, conveyed by warships.

Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express said in London yesterday: "Homes must be sacrificed if we are going to win. To convert England into a fortress all normal life may have to go."

Consulate Bombed

NEW YORK (AP)—An explosion which police said they believed came from a bomb occurred shortly after 3 p.m. today in the downtown Manhattan building housing the German Consulate and offices of many other agencies and shipping companies.

The blast was on the 18th floor at 18 Battery Place. Some of the German Consulate offices are on that floor, but the secretary of the consulate said the staff heard no explosion and knew of no disturbance.

Canada Speeds Air Crew Training

EDMONTON (CP)—Approximately 600 air crew men are now in training across Canada and 1,100 more have been notified to report to recruiting centres, according to Flying Officer W. S. Lighthall of Ottawa, recruiting liaison officer for Canada with the Royal Canadian Air Force.

Fully-trained air crew men will start leaving the "production line" within three months, he said, as the training period, originally placed at 28 weeks, is being reduced as much as possible.

Only 2 M.P.'s Oppose Conscription

Mobilization Bill Given Huge Vote

OTTAWA (CP)—Two Quebec members of the House of Commons stood out today as sole opponents in the Lower Chamber of the government's mobilization bill.

Under the glare of a recorded vote, rumblings of a potential rebellion against compulsory service possibilities of the bill failed to materialize and Liguori LaCombe, Laval-Two Mountains, and Wilfrid Lacroix, Quebec-Montmorency, alone voted for something less than the government's measure.

The vote, demanded by Prime Minister Mackenzie King to clear the air, came on a ruling of the chair yesterday against an amendment proposed by the two members that Canada's war effort should be conducted merely on a "free and voluntary" basis.

On division, at least four voices called "Nay" in contrast to a lusty chorus of "Ayes." Speaker Glen declared the chair upheld. But the Prime Minister wanted it in black and white, so he called for a recorded vote. The result, 202-2.

PUBLIC INFORMATION

"The time has come," Mr. King explained later, "when the country should know exactly where some men stand on measures such as this and I was not prepared to leave the impression there was any number of men who would support the amendment and who were not prepared to support the bill. For that reason I asked the vote be taken."

The National Resources Mobilization Bill had been scheduled to pass the Commons yesterday, then pass through the Senate last night in a special sitting of the Upper Chamber.

Members of the Commons were vociferously eager to push the bill through as adjournment approached, but J. H. Blackmore, New Democracy, Lethbridge, Alta., insisted he had things to say which would take some time. Passage of the bill was held up until today.

WANTS GREATER MEASURE

The Conservative leader, Hon. R. B. Hanson, said it was not easy to support the principle of the bill, having regard to representations he had been receiving for something more far-reaching. However, half a loaf was better than no bread and he was prepared to accept the principle for the defence of Canada.

He protested the delegation to the government of the powers set up by the bill. Powers of such scope, under which men might be called to arms and even to die, should be exercised by Parliament itself.

The Prime Minister replied that no Parliament was more jealous of the liberties of the individual than Westminster, where the British Commons had taken steps similar to those being adopted here and in similar manner. Those liberties were not being destroyed but were being "preserved in the most effective way possible."

The government, he said, would only exercise the powers conferred on it by this bill as occasion arose.

CONTINUE AT POSTS

The government contemplated that "exactly the same sort of thing" as was being done under the British measures was contemplated for Canada. People would stay at their normal jobs unless instructed otherwise.

Some establishments might be controlled at once, others later. Some firms would carry on at a loss, for which they would be compensated. Some would be closed down.

The bill was not a conscription bill in the ordinary meaning of the term but mobilization to provide men for all kinds of war work, of which service in the military forces was only one. Men might be kept working in the forests, in factories, on farms.

"If we are to perform what will be expected of us, we shall need all the production that can be effectively and rapidly brought about from the farms of our country," he said.

The British Isles would look increasingly to Canada for supplies formerly obtained from northern Europe, Australia and elsewhere.

REGULATIONS MUST BE DRAFTED

OTTAWA (CP)—Regulations under the natural resources mobilization bill now before the House of Commons must be drafted before the public will know just how the government's plans relating to manpower will work.

Hon. C. G. Power, Minister of National Defence for Air and acting Minister of National Defence, has the task in hand, but the regulations have not yet taken final form nor been approved by the cabinet.

It is possible the military mobilization plan may run along the same line as that followed in Australia. There overseas service is voluntary, but military training for home defence is compulsory, and the bill before the House of Commons gives power for compulsory manpower to be used only in Canada.

With recruits pouring into enlistment centres for the Canadian Active Service Force these days facilities for equipping, arming and training the volunteers are so taxed that it is unlikely any immediate compulsory draft will be called.

Under the Australian system all men between the ages of 18 and 60 are liable to compulsory service for home defence. These men are divided into classes, the first class being unmarried men or widowers without children between the ages of 18 and 34.

A class or a section of a class may be called up by order-in-council. Last November the men in the first class between the ages of 20 and 22 were called up in Australia.

That meant they were required to spend several months in camp training and perform drill and

Senator McRae To Cabinet?

OTTAWA (CP)—With announcement of changes in the cabinet scheduled for tomorrow after Finance Minister Ralston delivers the budget speech, the halls of Parliament bristled with conjecture today as to what changes would be made.

One of the rumors was that Senator A. D. McRae of Vancouver might be given a cabinet post. In this connection a possibility receiving considerable attention in speculation was that both Air Minister Power and Col. Ralston would be assigned to the defence department.

Previously Prime Minister King had announced Col. Ralston would take over the defence portfolio, left vacant by the death of Hon. Norman Rogers.

But in support of the possibility the department might be split between Major Power and Col. Ralston there were those who put forward the advantage of having joint operation so that the maximum result might be attained without hopelessly overworking the department head.

Under such an arrangement a defence minister who would have full charge of the department would always be in Ottawa should his partner-in-office be away on assignments.

It was suggested Senator McRae might be named as air minister, a post presently held by Major Power in addition to his job as Postmaster-General. Major-General McRae is a Conservative member of the Senate and a native of Glengarry, Ont.

Another suggestion was that Labor Minister McLarty might return to his original job as Postmaster-General and that a prominent labor man from outside Parliament would take over the Labor post. In this connection, the name of Tom Moore of Ottawa, president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, received mention.

Mentioned to succeed Finance Minister Ralston after the budget comes down is Revenue Minister Ilsley.

Australia also lauched a national registration throughout the year.

Australia also launched a national registration similar to the one which is now proposed for Canada. It will take considerable time to complete the registration and the calling of men to the home defence force may or may not await the completion of the registration.

Huge Munitions Plants Rushed

OTTAWA (CP)—The Munitions Minister, Hon. C. D. Howe, announced last night the $8,000,000 shell-filling plant being constructed in Canada in conjunction with the British government will employ some 2,500 men.

The plant is scheduled to come into production in about six months, but every effort is being made to complete it in advance of the scheduled date, Mr. Howe said.

It is being constructed and will be operated by the Canadian Car and Foundry Company. Preliminary investigations and efforts to provide adequate raw materials for this plant began months ago. Construction work on the new explosives plant which was to have been erected jointly with the British and French governments has also begun. The work will be carried out by the British government at a cost of $12,000,000. It will employ 2,000 men and is expected to start production before the year ends.

Construction work now is well advanced on the explosives plant "somewhere in Ontario." It will be one of the largest in the British Empire.

In addition to this and other works and production of munitions "work of a secret nature is proceeding on development which will both augment the output and extend the variety of munitions produced in this country," Mr. Howe said.

CRITICS SCORED

OTTAWA (CP)—"Petty criticism" of the government in its conduct of the war without constructive suggestions was branded as "unworthy of the upper chamber" in the Senate yesterday by Hon. Raoul Dandurand, government leader.

Feelings became ruffled when senators on the Conservative opposition benches deplored absence of Canadian troops and equipment from the firing line in the battle of France.

Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Conservative leader, said he supported Senator Louis Cote, Conservative, Ontario, in regretting that Canadian troops, Canadian tanks, guns and airplanes had not been fighting in France.

Senator Dandurand said dis-

The Americas Prepare

ALTHOUGH ADOLF HITLER AND Benito Mussolini may imagine they are on the top of the world, particularly as they see the swastika flying over more French communities daily, it is not too extravagant to suggest that the continually firming attitude of the United States may be causing them some apprehension. To Rome and to Berlin notes from Washington already have been transmitted declaring in emphatic terms that the neighboring republic would under no consideration whatever countenance any transfer of British, French or Dutch possessions in the New World to a non-American country. Admittedly, both Germany and Italy have officially poo-pooed the idea of Nazi or Fascist interference in the affairs of this continent—or, at least, the northern half of it—but Mr. Roosevelt has lived too long and has observed too many broken pledges to pay any attention to further promises emanating from either Hitler or Mussolini. So he has unequivocally warned them, implying in his government's communication that if totalitarianism is in the mood to extend its challenge to the free peoples on this side of the Atlantic, it will add seriously to the difficulties by which it is already, or soon will be, encompassed.

Another significant and far-reaching entry on the agenda of the Nazi and Fascist leaders might well be the proposals the United States government expects to lay before the projected Pan-American Conference on hemisphere problems of defence. United States Under-Secretary of State Sumner Welles announced yesterday that all the 21 American republics had been communicated with, suggesting an emergency gathering to be held at once in view of recent developments abroad, and that already favorable replies had come in from some 17 of the states concerned. Here is the obvious beginning of a co-operative movement to establish a complete hemispherical bloc, political, economic and military, to meet any challenge which may be thrown down in the early or distant future by the forces which have declared total war against the philosophy that still guarantees freedom to the people of the Americas. If Hitler and Mussolini continue to believe that democracy is effete and doomed, that the New World can be "acquired," either from within or without, they had better mark well what is transpiring at Washington and in the South American capitals.

A Fine Example

PENTICTON'S CIVIC LEADERS HAVE offered to convert the community's sinking fund account of $650,000 into war savings certificates. Not a soul in British Columbia will hesitate to applaud this fine gesture of practical patriotism. Well may it be an example that will be followed on a large scale in other parts of the province.

There is nothing unusual, of course, in leadership from the progressive communities of British Columbia's Interior. Cities like Penticton, Vernon, Kamloops, Nelson, Trail and Kelowna in recent years have set many precedents in civic enterprise. They have developed the happy faculty of intensive co-operation among their own folk which invariably produces something of lasting benefit to the citizenry and their respective districts as a whole. But this latest proposal of the good people of Penticton is not only significant for its immediate intrinsic meaning, it also furnishes new proof of Canadian resourcefulness, in the face of an emergency; it is a symbol of the popular will to measure up to individual and collective responsibility when necessity demands.

Penticton's procedure, perhaps, may serve to remind some of the coast cities, those which are near to the seat of government in this province, that if they had been less inclined in the past to run hand in hand to the Parliament Buildings every time they felt they wanted something, British Columbia's debt at this stage might have been considerably less than it is.

We Know Where We Are

WHATEVER MAY BE SAID OF BRITISH statesmanship in the last decade, and more especially since Hitler began to strut boastfully across the European stage, the period of what has been called wishful thinking is at an end. The people of Britain, the peoples of the Commonwealth, and our friends in the neighboring republics, now have emerged in the clear light of stark reality. They are no longer speculating on the actions of other peoples. Nor are they trying to escape the facts which stare them in the face; the worst has been strikingly illuminated for them by daily events. Italy's entrance into the conflict on the side of the active enemies, quickly followed by the collapse of France under circumstances which sooner or later may be clarified, has merely emphasized the new difficulties.

There is no doubt about them or their seriousness; but we can discuss them fully and freely in the open and know that we are neither alarmists nor pessimists; we can say to one another, in the vernacular, this is a tough proposition and ask ourselves what we are going to do about it. The question answers itself: We are going to do the job or die in the attempt. There is no alternative. Mr. Churchill told us yesterday and the day before that he thinks everything in the end will come out right. He spoke with a knowledge of the nature of the task, with an understanding of the realities which now are much plainer to us than they were. If he can face the facts, if the people in their island home can jest and grin their teeth with the terror in some form ever present, surely we in this Dominion can enthusiastically acclaim the decision which Canada's Parliament is now taking—and play our part until "the curse of Hitler is lifted from the brows of men."

If there are any disposed to regard the British Isles as the last outpost of democracy in Europe, they had better amend their conception of Empire defence, and possibly of Empire strategy. Those islands do not represent the geographical and political extremity of Europe; they are not the last corner of a continent in which the remnants of a well-nigh shattered European civilization now are reposing. On the contrary, they should and must be considered the first line of defence of a great world system, made up of the British Commonwealth, and, of course, all the free peoples of all the countries of this hemisphere.

As Mr. Churchill spoke on Tuesday it was obvious that he was warning both Hitler and Mussolini that he who attempted to invade the shores of Britain dare not, and must not, regard his expedition as one of rounding off a series of European conquests, but rather as the beginning of a great and terrible adventure which offers not the slightest prospect of final success. It must be considered a great adventure against a family system—against great continents possessed of illimitable resources. And this system commands the oceans and embraces spirited peoples who do not know defeat. This military success on the Continent is one thing; sometimes in the past Britain has failed to prevent it. Conquest of the world is another; no one has yet achieved it.

The Right Man

BY APPOINTING MR. H. R. MACMILLAN to the important post of timber controller for Canada, Mr. Mackenzie King has selected wisely, for the appointee not only is an expert in his business but is a man with an intimate knowledge of the international scene. His refusal to accept any remuneration and his intention to defray traveling and other incidental expenses he may incur in the discharge of his intricate duties is a demonstration of practical patriotism which furnishes its own, eloquent commentary.

And when we say Mr. MacMillan is an expert in his business we are merely repeating what everybody who deals in timber has known for many years. From a comparatively early age he has been professionally familiar with the growth, manufacture, marketing, and the shipment of our forest products to all parts of the world. In other words, he is the right man in the right job at the right time; and in arranging for able Chief Forester Manning to assist Mr. MacMillan, the British Columbia government has manifested a commendable spirit of co-operation.

Has Its Drawbacks

CRITICAL OBSERVERS IN BERLIN ARE beginning to view Italy's entry into the war on Germany's side with mixed feelings. For the moment it means that not even the trickle of German exports which have "escaped" in one disguise or another through the British contraband control points at each end of the Mediterranean will leak through to world markets. At the same time, Germans who are familiar with Italy know that the country is bound to be an economic liability in anything more than a "Blitzkrieg," for Italy has no important wartime raw material within her own borders except mercury, and is dependent for 70 per cent of her normal industrial raw materials from sources outside the Mediterranean. And some even doubt the ability of Italy to maintain her shipments of food supplies to the Reich for long. Her position as a belligerent, moreover, may become still more confusing if the French government should decide to continue the war from a new "capital" in Africa. This would mean the French navy and French airplanes—in conjunction with the British—would immediately adopt more aggressive tactics in the Mediterranean and against Italian colonial possessions.

JAPS COPY NAZIS

From New York Times
The Japanese apparently desire to convince all whom it may concern that they, too, can do things with airplanes. Since Sunday they have been raiding Chungking, the Chinese capital on the upper Yangtze, every day. On Tuesday they came over with 160 ships, of which 63 dropped bombs. They are reported to have killed about 300 Chinese civilians, wounding many more, and smashing buildings indiscriminately. Tokyo dispatches state that the objective was a new arsenal, although almost everything else was hit, including a building on the grounds of the American Methodist Mission, buildings adjacent to the Soviet, French and Belgian embassies and the command near the hotel in which the foreign newspapermen live. The spokesmen for the Japanese naval air force are more explicit than the diplomats in Tokyo. They state in so many words that they mean to bomb Chungking daily until its "spirit of resistance is broken." This doesn't mean that they will aim at arsenals. It means that they intend to butcher the civil population. The Orient learns from the Occident. Bloody hand claps bloody hand across the seas and continents.

Parallel Thoughts

Elmore Philpott

THE DEFENCE OF BRITAIN

SIR NEVILLE HENDERSON predicts, in a sort of keynote speech, that Hitler will try to overcome Britain in the immediate future by three means of attack—blockade of incoming supplies by planes and submarines, mass bombing attacks on civilian population, and direct invasion.

I submit that Sir Neville has omitted two of the most deadly of Hitler's offensive strategies. I have no idea in what order the destroyer will attempt to employ his tools of destruction. But here is my list of ways in which Hitler might overcome Britain in ascending order of deadliness: 1, blockade; 2, mass bombing; 3, direct military invasion; 4, treachery. By those Bytons who already have or later do sell out to Hitler; 5, defeatism—admission in the heart of hearts of the individual that we cannot win in the end.

I do not believe that Hitler can starve out Britain by blockade, because I see no evidence that sea power has lost to air power. We all know that Hitler is likely to attempt the occupation of Ireland, Iceland and the smaller islands off the British coasts as a means of obtaining bases from which to strangle that tight little island, which is the citadel and capital of the free world. I think he will fail, because I believe the British navy is still mistress of the home waterways.

Nor do I see any evidence from anywhere in the world, during the last six tragic years, that mass bombing of civilian populations is alone sufficient to break national endurance. As I write these words the first reports of the results of Hitler's first big air raids are coming in. They bear out past experience.

A NAVY

THERE SEEMS to be no doubt that either by plane or small craft Hitler can land troops in England. But he cannot hope to get his big tanks across, with the other heavy equipment essential for their success, without breaking the hold of the British navy on the seas. By "breaking" the British control of the seas, I mean not just slipping a few ships across, but establishing a lane of communication and keeping it established.

Nothing that I can see suggests that the British navy will fall down on its age-old job when it is fighting for the very body and soul of England, to retain world freedom, and for the safety and future of the wives and children and sweethearts of the men in blue.

I am not so sure of so many things nowadays. But one of them is that the flag which for a thousand years has braved the battle and the breeze, which saw the Armada come and go, saw Napoleon try and fail, saw the Kaiser start a Potsdam and end at Doorn—that that same White Ensign will still be flying from the staffs of British ships when the Prussian descendants of Attila the Hun will be ashamed to admit that they knuckled under the Swastika.

IF ENGLAND FALLS

SEVERAL HUNDRED years ago a very great Englishman wrote a few lines which I would like to see printed at the masthead of every newspaper in the Old Country till Hitler has vanished from the face of the earth: "This England never has nor ever shall lie at the proud feet of a conqueror but that she first did help to wound herself."

It is no longer any real secret that Britain is in the position she is in today, not only for lack of prudence, but because of a much more sinister relationship between highly influential British people and the Nazis, for years before the invasion of Holland brought the Nazi movement into the open in its true colors—a world revolutionary movement of conquest. But if we were so dumb and deaf and blind as to shut our brains and ears and eyes to everything we read and saw and heard in the past five years, as in Rauschning's book, "Warning to the West," we cannot ignore what happened in France. The French censor will not now object to me writing that one reason why the German army cracked through the Maginot Line, on the most crucial day, was that there had been a considerable leftist mutiny in the French army, and that the Reynaud government throughout its whole tenure of office was harassed and harried and hamstrung by extreme rightists who were eager to have France kneel to the dictators, and come to terms with the proposed Nazi world empire.

So, too, it may be in England. If all or any part of England falls to Hitler, even for a little while, it will be because the fifth column will be there before him.

The blind world even yet cannot understand that this Nazi movement is in the nature of a huge secret society, with members everywhere, and that many people expect to reap large profit, either political or monetary, from Nazi world domination.

Deadliest of all Hitler's weapons is defeatism. People who believe, even secretly in their hearts, that they are going to be beaten, are beaten already. That is why I feel more confident than ever before in this war. For now at last we have begun to fight.

Wherever this mechanized Attila has passed, every workers' movement and institution has been destroyed.—Former Premier Leon Blum of France.

As credit is the measure of the strength of a business, so is it the gauge of a nation's strength.—Henry H. Heimann, to the First International Credit Congress.
The most critical long-term issues with which Adolf Hitler has confronted western civilization are not political and economic. They are moral and religious.—Stanley High.

Letter From London

LONDON—Residents in London look at their city these days with something of the deep feeling of the man who is going on a far journey and wants to remember every feature and line of a beloved face.

There are the beautiful parks—some of the finest in the world—which never looked lovelier. Row after row of May trees like figures in a ballet, with their gorgeous headdresses of red blossoms... hedge after hedge of lilacs, odor... tulips marching in brave rank after rank... All these may be withered and blasted and poisoned by Nazi bombs.

And then the things that man alone has built—unaided by nature... the noble and far-famed dome of St. Paul's Cathedral... the soaring tower of the Houses of Parliament, bearing at its summit that famous Big Ben... Buckingham Palace and then the rows and rows of humbler buildings—the homes of the plain men who do the work of the big town and fight in the wars of their country.

All these may be knocked into so many piles of rubble and twisted iron and shattered wood and dust, that ultimate to which proud man returns.

There is no funeral dirge tone to this thinking. It is merely the Londoner's feeling that everything beautiful and ugly, everything familiar and strange, everything that goes to make up the city that he loves, may be destroyed.

And what the Londoner feels, many a Canadian in our little colony feels, too. For like every great metropolis, whether it be this one or New York or Paris, there is a magnetic pull which is exercised upon the native and the foreigner alike. It is the mighty hive that man has created, where he does his work and seeks his pleasure.

MILTON-BRONNER

War Dogs

Among the pathetic refugees fleeing before the German dogs and cats, The Toronto Star recalls that some of these creatures were befriended by the British and French soldiers and brought back home with them. But many have, of course, suffered the fate of the countless human beings on those tragic highways.

More fortunate, and certainly more purposeful, is the life of the dogs who are officially a part of the army. Both the German and the Allied forces are employing the services of dogs in a variety of ways. In the last war the French and Belgians used dogs for ambulance, sentry, and liaison work, and some were employed even pulling guns. When the army was operating in the deep snows of the Vosges Mountains, dogs were particularly useful. Mr. A. A. Allan in his book "Gold, Men and Dogs," relates that in 1915, one section of the canine army carried 40 tons of ammunition to a battery within four days, and to a place where men, mules and horses had failed to reach after trying for 14 days.

The Germans in the last war employed dogs a great deal, and in this war they have conscripted all the dogs in the country that are over 15 inches in height. Experience in the last war showed that three breeds of dogs are best for war work. In the front rank is the husky, who is particularly useful, amid heavy snows, and he has also proven himself... the summer time, pulling trucks on narrow-gauge light railways. In one instance 11 dogs were able to draw a ton up a precipitous slope. Pack dogs are used for carrying munitions, and terriers are wanted in large numbers for the very important task of destroying rats in the trenches. The British "pensioned" some terrier veterans of the last war that had killed a prodigious number of rats.

While dogs serve as an auxiliary to the modern army, in ancient days they helped also in the actual fighting. Pliny, the Roman historian, tells that they were trained with great care and that they fought in squadrons in the front rank, with great courage. For this they were "armed" with fierce-looking spiked collars, and some also were dressed in suitable armor. The dogs then must have been fiercer specimens than we know now, for one writer describes them as being "the size of asses and fierce as lions." But compared to modern aerial and chemical warfare, the ancient methods of fighting even with fierce dogs appear mild.

At a time when the nation should close its ranks and stand united in the face of the enemy they ask us to play politics and mighty dirty politics at that. Theirs is a shabby form of patriotism.

NO RESPONSIBILITY FOR LETTERS

To the Editor:—Letters signed E. F. Gorman have been appearing in Canadian newspapers in connection with war, etc. I wish to advise you that I am not the author of these letters.

Several acquaintances and friends have approached me with reference to these letters, inquiring as to whether I was the author. In so far as I am the only E. F. Gorman listed in the Ottawa City Directory, I would appreciate your kind assistance in placing the responsibility on the person concerned.

EDWIN F. GORMAN

'Calling Canada'

From Vancouver News-Herald

The anonymous armchair generals are "Calling Canada" once again.

Friday they paid the Vancouver Daily Province a nice round sum for four full columns in which to present one of the most flagrant appeals to prejudice ever laid before the Canadian people.

In an advertisement illustrated by pictures of bombed and deserted refugee children from Flanders, backed by innuendo and half truth, they accuse the Canadian government of having impeded the movement of these children to the Dominion.

And this in the face of an announcement in the House of Commons Wednesday by Mr. Crerar that plans for the placing of European children in Canadian homes had been completed and only waits permission of the British and French governments to put it into action.

But the armchair generals, full of sound and fury against the government, follow up their appeal with this kind of nonsense. "The government must act now and plan afterwards, must spend and find the money later..." They are all in favor of action—against the government of the country charged with the responsibility of prosecuting this war.

What would the armchair generals have the government do? On what and how would they spend the money? How would they meet Hitler's tanks and planes? With newspaper advertisements?

Let them publish their plan for victory.

On the News-Herald hold no particular brief for Canada's war effort. What we do think is that the elected government of the people of Canada is entitled to the support of the nation at this time.

Those who are calling Canada are so irresponsible that they will not even sign their own statements.

At a time when the nation should close its ranks and stand united in the face of the enemy they ask us to play politics and mighty dirty politics at that. Theirs is a shabby form of patriotism.

But politics or no politics, the News-Herald has still a sporting proposition to make to those who are "Calling Canada." We will run any of their advertisements free of charge providing only that they allow their names to be used for publication and that they contribute the cost of that advertisement to any recognized charity, or to the government towards the purchase of one tank.

Or if they are too cheap to put up the cash, we'll still run the advertisement if they will allow their names to be used with it for publication.

Again we ask: Who is "Calling Canada?"

"CARRY ON, JEEVES"
From Hamilton Spectator.

A large audience of readers throughout the English-speaking world will be sorry to learn that Mr. P. G. Wodehouse, famous British humorist, is believed to have been interned by German military authorities.

Mr. and Mrs. Wodehouse were spending a holiday at their villa in Le Touquet, a resort town on the Channel coast of France. They were not able to get back to England during the first few days of the invasion of the Low Countries, and decided to remain. They are reported to have been warned that the Germans were coming. Mrs. Wodehouse was released and allowed to go south in France, but Mr. Wodehouse was held, and nothing further has been heard of him for 10 days.

WE MISS THE WEATHER

From Vancouver News-Herald

Looking back in the files it seems that, in June gone by, the weather was a major topic of editorial comment. If it was fine we exulted in our blue skies and sunny mornings. If it was dull we chided the weatherman. Yes, the weather was a great topic.

That was only yesterday. Now, amid the death and destruction of war, the weather rates scant editorial attention. Nowadays editorial writers have to be a combination of military strategist, economic expert and political diplomat, all in one.

Sometimes we would like to write about the weather again. Suggestion for service badge for Britain's parashooters: "Shoot the 'chutes."

Better English

1. What is wrong with this sentence? "I am most through."
2. What is the correct pronunciation of "connoisseur?"
3. Which one of these words is misspelled? Disfranchise, compromise, magnetise.
4. What does the word "abyrith" mean?
5. What is a word beginning with ob that means "stubbornness?"

Answers

1. Say "I have nearly finished."
2. Pronounce kon-i-say, o as in on, i as in it, u as in fur, accent last syllable, 3. Magnetize, 4. An inextinguishable or bewildering state of things; a maze. "There was a possibility of going astray in this labyrinth of darkness." 5. Obstinacy.

An "Estate Planning" Executor

How many individual executors are interested in keeping settlement costs at a minimum when an estate is to be distributed?

The Canada Trust Company considers it a duty to the heirs of estates to be economical in administrations.

The value of this service is proven conclusively by analysis of more than 10,000 estates, which shows that for every $1,870 used by a Trust Company in settlement costs (taxes, debts and fees) $2,150 was used by individual executors.

SOCIAL AGENCIES SEEK V.D. CONTROL

The meeting of the committee of the Council of Social Agencies appointed to study the question of venereal disease control in Victoria met on Monday evening in the Y.W.C.A. Joseph McKenna was in the chair and 30 delegates were present.

Dr. Donald H. Williams of Vancouver, director of the provincial division of V.D. control, outlined the problem, stating that operation of bawdy houses provided the most serious source of infection. Such houses operated in direct contravention of Sections 228 and 229 of the Criminal Code, he said.

In response to a resolution, carried unanimously, a delegation from the Council of Social Agencies will ask to meet the Police Commission to discuss the matter. This delegation will co-operate with the Local Council of Women.

WISMER GOING EAST

Attorney-General Wismer will leave Sunday for Ottawa to discuss anti-fifth column organization with federal authorities.

Mr. Wismer announced his impending trip following a conference in Vancouver last night with veterans' organizations.

Veterans talked with the Attorney-General concerning the co-ordination of their efforts against fifth column and the organization of "sixth columns" to combat subversive activity.

Representatives of 27 organizations met Mr. Wismer and agreed to name a co-ordinating committee and meet again.

Convict-recruit May Be Released

Short term offenders in Oakalla jail who wish to join the fighting forces may be granted mitigation of their sentences.

Attorney-General Wismer said today the government would give consideration to leniency for any sentenced for provincial offences.

He noted, however, that most of the inmates were serving time for offences under the Criminal Code. In these cases the decision is up to the federal authorities.

Tomorrow Is Day of Prayer

A continuous day of prayer on behalf of the Allied cause has been arranged for tomorrow at Christ Church Cathedral. Religious leaders of the Protestant denominations in the city will take part.

The day was arranged at the suggestion of Bishop H. E. Sexton, who will celebrate the Holy Communion at 7.30 a.m. There will be prayer from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., and citizens are invited to attend the church at any time during the day and offer their prayers. Brief services will be conducted for 15 minutes at the beginning of each hour, after which the intercessions will be made in silence.

A special service will be held in the evening at 8.15, which will be conducted by the Bishop and other ministers, with an address by Rev. Dr. A. E. Whitehouse, president of the Victoria Ministerial Association.

Services during the day will be conducted as follows: 9 a.m., Rev. James Hood; 10 a.m., Adjutant Charles Watt; 11 a.m., Rev. G. A. Reynolds; 12 noon, the Bishop; 1 p.m., Rev. Dr. Imrie; 2 p.m., Rev. Canon N. E. Smith; 3 p.m., Rev. N. J. Crees; 4 p.m., Rev. H. A. McLeod; 5 to 5.30 p.m., even-song; 8.15 p.m., special service.

Members of all religious bodies are asked by Bishop Sexton to co-operate in the observance of the day, and to assemble in large numbers for the evening service. It is anticipated that United intercession services will be held regularly, particulars of which will be duly announced.

U.S. Moves Troops To Alaska Bases

SEATTLE—Approximately 570 soldiers will sail from either Seattle or Tacoma Saturday aboard the army transport San Mihel to protect the new army air bases which are being constructed at Anchorage, Unalaska, Kodiak and Fairbanks, Alaska.

The draft will comprise a battery of field artillery from Fort Lewis, a company of engineers from the 10th Engineer Battalion at Fort Lawton, and the 1st Battalion of the 4th Infantry from Fort Missoula, Mont.

The transfer of the troops from Fort Lewis will not deplete the garrison there, as a much larger number of men will be stationed there in new organizations now in the process of formation.

These include the 99th Anti-tank Gun Regiment, the 75th Coast Artillery Regiment, the 1st Battalion of the 31st Field Artillery, the 32nd Engineer Company and various service elements.

CANADIANS FACE HEAVY NEW TAXES

OTTAWA (CP)—By now all suggestions for increasing revenue have been considered and, where deemed prudent, they have been incorporated in the government's financial plans and will be made known tomorrow when Finance Minister Ralston presents his budget.

Col. Ralston has said there would be heavy taxes.

"There will be taxes and heavy taxes imposed because they have to be if Canada is to do a real job in the war," he said.

Speculation has revolved around lowered exemptions and increased rates for personal incomes and changes in the excess profits tax which was imposed on corporations last fall, effective April 1, 1946.

The excess profits tax presently ranges from 10 to 60 per cent on a graduated scale but there have been demands in the Commons that this be jumped to 100 per cent as in Great Britain.

At last fall's emergency session this tax was imposed, a surtax of 20 per cent placed on all individual income taxes and the corporation tax was increased from 15 to 18 per cent.

Since then the Finance Minister has estimated the current fiscal year will see a war cost of $700,000,000.

Anti-Italian Riots

QUITO, Ecuador (AP)—A wild anti-Italian demonstration greeted the new Italian minister to Ecuador when he arrived at the Presidential Palace to present his credentials yesterday.

The diplomat, Baron Difontana Deglia Scaduto Mendola, ran into a barrage of hisses and shouts of "Long Live France" at the palace entrance. Several fist fights occurred when Italian residents attempted to organize a counter demonstration. Police intervened.

In the days of muzzle-loading guns, natives of Central America made powder flasks from the bills of toucans.

Italians Give Aid

Members of Victoria's Italian colony met this week and subscribed $86 to the Canadian Red Cross Society, for war work in Europe.

"We are doing this as an expression of loyalty to the King and Empire—we belong to Canada—we make our living here and we desire to help in every way we can to further Canada's war effort," said A. Lorinde, who was chairman at the meeting. He added further donations would be made from time to time.

Present at the meeting were Joseph Balagno, E. Rainaldi, M. D'Orto, J. Denoni, L. Perri, D. D'Orto, F. Pagnetta, M. Canonico, E. Straglini, M. Oppido, T. de Gerolamo, L. Denoni, J. Banalera, F. Berara, J. Petri, A. Marmo, C. Bossi, O. Cuelpa, T. Tonini, A. Segnani, A. Lorinde, P. Smeraldi, M. Moras, J. Loreto and L. Oricio.

TEACHERS HONORED REGINALD COX

At a largely-attended meeting of the Victoria Music Teachers' Association held this week at the Y.W.C.A. Reginald Cox, past-president, was the recipient of a certificate of active life membership in appreciation of his unflinching devotion to duty during his 15 years of office. Mrs. Marion MacGovern, a charter member, made the presentation on behalf of the members and spoke a few words about the growth of the organization during Mr. Cox's term of office.

The president, Miss Ethel James, announced that Frederick Chubb of Christ Church Cathedral, Vancouver, would give an organ recital under the auspices of the association on Tuesday, July 9, at the Metropolitan Church.

The annual meeting of the Provincial Council of the B.C.M.T.F. will be held in Victoria on Monday, July 8, and the local delegates will be Mr. Reginald Cox, provincial president; Miss Mary Adamson, treasurer, and Miss Ethel James, local president.

It was announced that the annual picnic would be held on July 17, and the telephone committees will complete arrangements.

Finds Japan Hungry For Raw Materials

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mayne D. Hamilton, prominent Vancouver businessman who has just returned from a six weeks' tour of Japan, said today "Japan is hungry for some of our raw materials to keep her manufacturing industries busy."

"They [Japan] have made great strides in their manufacturing technique, and are making better and more durable goods than Canada could use with benefit," he added.

Accompanying Mr. Hamilton were John T. Hackett, K.C., of Westmont, Quebec, and Alfred H. Paradis, president of the French Canadian Chamber of Commerce in Montreal, and Mrs. Hamilton. The men were guests of the Japan Foreign Trade Federation, and left here more than two months ago. They returned via the United States.

SHAWNIGAN FIRE

SHAWNIGAN LAKE—Smith's Service Station and Garage was destroyed by fire Wednesday morning. Constable Robert Ross of the Provincial Police received a call at 2.30 and on arrival at the scene had the assistance of "Sonny" Walker, forest warden, but owing to lack of water it was seen that the building and contents were doomed. The premises were recently taken over by Max Krakowec.

Irish potatoes, in spite of their name, did not come from Ireland. The Indians of Colombia were getting them in 1538, when the first white men made their discovery. Later, Spanish ships carried potatoes to Europe, and the Irish popularized them as food.

Mrs. Hamber Guest At 'Rosemead' Fete

Mrs. E. Hamber, accompanied by Mrs. Mae Rice, attended the successful garden party held at "Rosemead," Lampson Street, the home of Dr. and Mrs. T. A. Rickard, yesterday afternoon, the affair being sponsored by the Esquimalt Community Club.

Mrs. R. McVie, president of the club, assisted the host and hostess in welcoming the many guests. Mrs. Lockley, who chaired the fete open and thanked all those who in various ways had shown their interest in the community club's undertakings.

Corsage bouquets were presented to Mrs. Lockley, Mrs. Rickard, Mrs. McVie and Mrs. W. Aldridge, the general convener. Tea was served on the spacious veranda, where the individual tables were gay with summer flowers, against a background of flags and bunting. The head table, at which were seated Mrs. Hamber, Mrs. Rice, Mrs. McVie, Mrs. Aldridge and Capt. Turpin, together with the hostess, was artistically arranged with campanula and gladioli in shell containers.

Mrs. M. Parkes had charge of the tea arrangements. There were stalls of needlework, home cooking, ice cream, miscellaneous articles and candy, which were well patronized, and the great attraction was bingo. Fortune telling by Mrs. Page, Winnipeg, entertained the guests.

The proceeds of the affair amounted to about $100, which will be used for the club's work.

Weddings

TAYLOR-THOMSON

Of interest to many in Victoria, where the bride lived some years ago, is announcement of the marriage of Viola May, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adam McGregor Thomson, and Mr. Dudley Robert Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eldred S. Taylor, in Vancouver on Monday. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of wild rose georgette with shirred girdle and small matching hat. She was attended by her sister, Miss Jean Thomson, and Mr. Norman E. Taylor was his brother's best man. Following a reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Taylor left on their wedding trip to Vancouver Island. They will make their home in Winnipeg.

LAW-BALDWIN

The wedding was quietly solemnized at St. John's Church, Cobble Hill, on Saturday evening, June 15, between Katherine E. Baldwin, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Baldwin, Erondale Road, Cobble Hill, and Cpl. Ernest P. D. Law, No. 3 Provost Company, Work Point Barracks, only son of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Law, 867 Humboldt Street, Victoria.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Cicely Baldwin, and Miss Kathleen Levesque of Duncan, B.C. The groom was supported by Gnr. Fred Graham, 17th Searchlight Battery, Victoria.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents for members of the family.

TYSON-ASHTON

Rev. Theodore Jansen of Portland, a family friend, conducted the marriage of Ruth, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Payne Ashton, 802 Bay Street, and Mr. Percy Edward Tyson, fourth son of Mr. and Mrs. William Tyson, Inverness Road, last evening at 8:30 at Grace Lutheran Church, which was effectively arranged with summer flowers.

Miss Kathleen Newman played the wedding music, and during the signing of the register Mrs. Christine Payne sang "I Love You Truly."

Mr. Ashton gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a princess gown of white satin, with long-sleeved bolero, and her hand-embroidered net veil was held in place with a spray of orange blossoms and lily of the valley and fell to form a filmy train. She carried a sheaf of calla lilies.

Attending the bride were her two sisters, Mrs. G. D. Buckle, as matron of honor, in a peach net floor-length frock with sash of turquoise blue velvet who carried a bouquet of pink gladioli, yellow and blue iris, and Miss Ashton in apple green silk with pink moire sash and pink rosebuds in her hair. She carried a bouquet of delphinium, gladioli and pinks.

Mr. James Yates was best man, and the ushers were Messrs. Reid, G. D. Buckle and Robert Ashton, brother of the bride.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where Mrs. Ashton, in a navy blue sheer dress with rose accessories and a corsage bouquet of pink rosebuds, was assisted in receiving the guests by the groom's mother, who wore a black sheer dress with black and white accessories and a corsage bouquet of pink rosebuds and pink and white sweet peas. The three-tier wedding cake centred the table, which was arranged with sweetheart roses.

The bride left for the honeymoon in a turquoise crepe frock and fawn coat, with pink furs and navy blue accessories. Upon their return from Kamloops, Mr. and Mrs. Tyson will make their home in North Quadra district.

An old but effective method for removing grass stains from washable clothing, says a home economist, is to rub the stain with molasses, then wash the spot.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Knight of Victoria, announce the engagement of their younger daughter, Hilda, to Mr. Jay Allen Fairbanks, only son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Fairbanks of Vancouver. The wedding will take place in Vancouver early in July.

Social and Personal

Mr. Frank Yates of Chilliwack, with his bride, are visiting Mr. Yates' grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Yates, Langford.

Miss Margaret Henderson of Vancouver is visiting in Victoria, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gordon.

Miss Freda Hilton, R.N., of St. Joseph's nursing staff, has returned to Victoria after spending the week-end at Port Alberni with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. C. T. Hilton.

Mr. Jack Hannan of Ceepeece, who has been spending the last week in Victoria with his mother, Mrs. Hannan, Courtenay Street, will return tomorrow to his home up the west coast.

Following the concert at the Empress Hotel last evening, Mr. Herbert Kent, conductor emeritus of the Arion Club, entertained at his home on Douglas Street at an informal supper party in compliment to Miss Eva Hart, the guest soloist. The guests included about 25 of her old friends.

Mrs. Leonard Holmes and Mrs. Douglas Dakers were joint hostesses at a miscellaneous shower held on Tuesday evening at the latter's home, 3276 Douglas Street, in honor of Miss Dorothy Ashman, whose marriage to Mr. Robert Niven will take place shortly. The gifts were wheeled into the room in a gaily decorated wagon and presented by little Miss Doris Benwell, who also presented the bride-to-be with a corsage bouquet of pink rosebuds and sweet peas. Supper was served from a table arranged with a shower cake and vases of sweet peas. The guests included Miss Dorothy Ashman, Messrs. J. Mackie Niven, W. Scotney, Gordon Ashman, E. C. Benwell, William Wilkie, J. A. Heritage, R. C. Benwell, T. Packford, E. Fraser, E. L. McConnan, Daryl Bissell, Mrs. Harry Ward, Mrs. R. Colby, and the Misses Marion Heritage, Marion Alexander, George McKay, Katherine Barlow, Nina Ferguson, Audrey Bland, Minnie Ormond, Louise Ormond, Jessie McGillivray, Evelyn Morrison, Barbara Ashman, Doris Ashman and Master Brian Holmes.

Miss Lois Macmurchie, who is to be married shortly to Mr. Niels A. Nielson of Cawston, B.C., was the guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. Gordon Page, 398 Gorge Road West, on Tuesday evening, when Mrs. Page, Mrs. Alex. Main, Mrs. Robert Nobel and the Misses Edina Wallace and Mary Hewitt combined as hostesses. On her arrival the bride-to-be was presented with a corsage bouquet of mauve sweet peas, roses and orange blossoms. In compliment to the hill country, where the bride-elect will make her future home, the many dainty gifts were concealed in a unique packhorse, cleverly constructed. The rooms were massed with summer flowers, and in the dining-room crepe paper streamers and rosettes formed a pastel canopy over the lace-covered supper table, which was centred with a silver bowl of pastel sweet peas and lighted mauve candles in silver holders. Games caused much amusement, prizes being won by Mrs. Lew Rush, Mrs. Bruce Macmurchie, Mrs. Percy Bailey and Miss Sylvia Lambriek. The guests included: Messdames J. D. C. Macmurchie, Tom Wallis, Bill Henderson, Percy Bailey, Edythe Hewitt, Jack Kershaw, A. Young, Wallace Van Norman, Lew Rush, Joe Addison, Anthony D'Arcy, Bruce Macmurchie, Jack Muir, Ernest Peden, Harry King, Bob Dewhurst and Ernest Coleman, and Misses Timmie Nason, Eileen Carr, Lillian Stokes, Margaret Carr, Jean Newcombe, Eleanor Peden, Irene Wallace, Elsie Matthews, Margaret MacDonald, Sylvia Lambriek, Helen and Betty Putnam, Betty Moore and Marion Alexander.

Mrs. C. E. Brown, Fairfield Road, has returned from spending a few days in Vancouver with her sister, Mrs. A. H. Rylands.

Miss Mona Rickaby is visiting in Vancouver with her brother-in-law, and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Gerrard Clute.

Mrs. W. C. Ives of Calgary is visiting in Victoria as the guest of her sister, Mrs. Winter Ferguson, Foul Bay Road.

Mrs. E. Abbott of Vancouver came over yesterday afternoon to spend a few days here with her mother, Mrs. Johnston, Central Apartments.

Mrs. Hector R. Goodacre arrived from San Mateo, Cal., yesterday on a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Windau, 1220 Oxford Street.

Today at her home "The Oaks," Oak Bay Avenue, Mrs. G. M. Weir was hostess at a luncheon party in compliment to Mrs. F. M. MacPherson of Ottawa, who is a guest at the Empress Hotel.

Members of the Sketch Club met at Gorge Vale on Monday afternoon and made some interesting studies of the adjoining fields of moon daisies and of the little Naval Church. Next week they will meet at the Japanese Tea Gardens at the Gorge.

Mrs. James Rigney of Kingston, Ont., who has been spending the last month in Victoria with her brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. W. T. Barrett, Rockland Avenue, will leave on Saturday afternoon to be the guest of Mrs. Stafford Kirkpatrick in Vancouver for a short time en route home.

The christening of the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Freer, 1027 Collinson Street, took place at Christ Church Cathedral on Sunday afternoon at 3:30. Rev. J. R. Fife officiated, and the baby received the names Robert Thomas. Mr. Jack Freer and Mr. Herbert Bradley were godfathers, and Mrs. J. Freer, godmother. After the service, Mr. and Mrs. Freer entertained a few relatives and friends at tea at their home, the lace-covered table being centred with a fragrant bowl of pink and white sweet peas, the christening cake holding the place of honor.

Miss Olive Dawson, a bride-to-be of the month, was the guest of honor yesterday afternoon, when Mrs. H. D. Dawson, Dean Heights, was hostess at a miscellaneous shower. Masses of lovely flowers decorated the house, with beautiful roses from the garden of Dr. David Christie predominating. Upon their arrival, Miss Dawson and her mother were presented with corsage bouquets of gypsophila and sweet peas, the former being in pink and white, and blooms in white and mauve comprising that for Mrs. Dawson. The gifts, gaily wrapped, were brought in on a tea wagon by Miss Watson and presented to the bride-to-be. Mrs. A. Broadfoot and Miss Joan Watson presided when tea was served from a table charmingly arranged with a centrepiece of mixed flowers, in pastel shades in a crystal vase. The guests were Messdames Edward Dawson, Ilwyn Sedgeman, G. Palmer, J. Townsend, W. Sedgeman, A. Broadfoot, Frank F. Osborne, Percy Nevard, R. Daniels and Miss Joan Watson.

About 250 guests, including many soldiers, sailors and air men, as well as senior club girls and members of "Y" committees, danced with evident enjoyment at the Chamber of Commerce auditorium Tuesday evening. The affair was one of the series of informal dances arranged for men of the three services and sponsored by the Y.W.C.A. under the direction of Mrs. Ross Crane and her committee. Mr. Jim McCague was a genial M.C. and assisting in the arrangements were the Misses Lorna Wilson, Lila Crow-

Delightful Tea Aids Red Cross

The home and gardens of Mrs. Coleridge H. T. Cole, Runnymere Avenue, were gay with visitors yesterday afternoon when the Monterey Parent-Teacher Association entertained in aid of the Oak Bay Red Cross Society. Mrs. H. A. Beckwith, president, welcomed the guests and thanked Mrs. Cole for placing her house at the disposal of the association, also all those who had helped arrange and conduct the affair.

Capt. F. G. Dexter, supervising principal of the Oak Bay Public School, introduced Brigadier-General J. G. Austin of the Canadian Red Cross Society, who opened the party. Other members of the society present were Mrs. Grimsom, Mrs. A. J. Dallain and Mrs. A. Carmichael, who explained briefly the work of the organization and expressed appreciation for the help the Monterey P.T.A. is giving.

The reception rooms were tastefully colorful with vases of summer blooms and the tea table was centred with a bowl of pale pink rambler roses set on a white maitre d'hotel cloth. Presiding at the tea urns during the afternoon were Mrs. George Weir, Mrs. F. G. Dexter, Mrs. A. L. Stevenson, Mrs. Norman Baker and Mrs. Hume of the Oak Bay Red Cross Society. Mrs. W. K. Willis and Mrs. Walter Brynjolfsson.

Mrs. W. R. Gunn, general convener of the affair, was assisted in the dining-room by Mrs. T. Lumsden, Mrs. W. H. N. Moorhouse, Mrs. W. H. Ruffell, Mrs. G. Hartley, Mrs. G. G. McKenzie, Mrs. J. Fulton, Mrs. C. F. Boulter and Mrs. A. Glenday. Mrs. F. V. Richardson acted as recorder.

Mrs. Sidney Cune, Misses V. F. Denham, Shirley Gunn, Jocelyn Cave and Doreen McDougall had charge of the prize canopy.

During the afternoon the guests enjoyed the lovely garden with its swimming pool and rose beds.

Mrs. George Wilkinson was assisted at receipt of customs by Mrs. G. H. Lyne, Mrs. J. W. Duncan and the following scouts of St. Mary's Patrol: Kenneth Hurn, Kenneth Travis, Scott Kerr, Patrick Laundry and Bernard Bing.

The proceeds of the affair will benefit the Oak Bay Red Cross Society and the amount will be announced soon.

ther and Doris McBain. Among members of the "Y" board present were Mr. and Mrs. Alister Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Parnall, Mr. and Mrs. John Baxter, Mr. and Mrs. E. I. W. R.A.E. Band Plays At Jubilee Fete

The Royal Canadian Air Force band made its Victoria debut yesterday afternoon by providing an excellent program of music at the outdoor fete held at the Royal Jubilee Hospital in aid of the new wing of the hospital.

The affair was held under the auspices of the Senior Women's Auxiliary, and Dr. J. D. Hunter, M.P.P., who formally opened the fete, cordially thanked the band for their generous services, which included not only the program at the fete but also a special visit to the T.B. Pavilion, where they entertained the patients with a number of popular tunes.

A huge marquee was erected on the sheltered lawn outside the Strathcona Ward and here tea was served under the direction of Mrs. Henry Helsterman and Mrs. R. J. Jameson. Mrs. J. D. Hunter was general convener. Arranged in the shelter of the trees and hedges were the various stalls, in charge of the following: Straw berries and cream, Miss Curry and Mrs. B. A. Ross; candy, Mrs. E. H. Griffiths; flowers, Mrs. J. A. R. Rome; home cooking, Mrs. F. V. Longstaff; fortunes, Mrs. C. Ford; white elephant, Mrs. C. Raven and Mrs. E. H. Gilmer.

In the Nurses' Home bridge and mah jong were played under the joint convensership of Miss Caroline Hall and Mrs. Hermann Robertson. Miss Hall presiding at the flower-centred table at the tea-hour, when the players were joined by additional guests.

As the result of the affair the sum of $200 was realized and will augment the furnishing fund of the new wing.

Legion Garden Party Held at Langford

Mr. E. V. Finland, M.P.P., opened the annual garden fete under the auspices of the Women's Auxiliary to the Prince Edward Branch No. 91, Canadian Legion, Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Grieve, Langford. Mr. J. W. Marshall, vice-president, introduced Mr. Finland, and Mrs. Marshall, president of the W.A., presented a fragrant corsage bouquet of freesia and fern to Mrs. Finland.

The work stall was supervised by Mrs. F. J. Day and Miss M. Marshall; Mrs. J. F. W. Jameson and Mrs. C. Turner, home cooking; Mrs. Richards, ice cream, and Mrs. Savage, flower booth. Ritchie Le Quesne obtained the lead cake donated by Mrs. T. Norman for the marble contest run by Mrs. H. Grieve; Messrs. W. Maughan and W. H. Good, man directed house; F. J. Day, Aunt Sally, and W. Marshall and J. Pearce assisted in the contests; A. G. Mackie and Mrs. G. Hobbs were winners of the gold stake, and George Duncan of the doll's house made by Trevor Norman. Surprise packets were sold by Mrs. and Alva Hobbs. Tea was served in the Legion Hall under the convensership of Mrs. W. H. Good, assisted by Mesdames W. Maughan, V. Franklin and M. Pimlott; Mrs. P. J. Welch was at the receipt of custom and Mrs. M. C. Ingren read teacups.

W. A. Pro Patria Branch, Canadian Legion, held a whist social on Tuesday evening at the V.W.I. rooms on Fort Street. Prizes were won by: Gents, first, Mrs. H. C. Hale; second, Mr. C. J. White; ladies, first, Mrs. D. Muir; second, Mrs. A. Gornall; consolation, Mrs. H. Allen and Mrs. A. Pomeroy. Bingo was also played and refreshments served. The next social will be held on June 28.

To Show Indian Boy's Paintings

Work of a gifted young British Columbian Indian boy is to be exhibited in Victoria for a week, before being sent to the National Gallery at Ottawa for exhibition. The collection comprises the animal paintings of Sis-Hu-Lk (Francis Baptiste) from the Indian Reserve at Inkampeep, Okanagan, and will be shown at the Windermere Hotel from Saturday, June 22, to June 29, inclusive. The exhibition is being sponsored by the Victoria Arts and Crafts Society.

Sis-Hu-Lk is the 19-year-old grandson of a notable old chief who died recently at the age of 92, and who built at his own cost the school on the reserve so that the children might remain with their people. Anthony Walsh, principal of the school, realized the boy's talent, which is self-developed, and encouraged him by arranging for exhibitions of some of his paintings as far afield as Vienna and Prague, in 1934, and Montreal, Glasgow and London, where in 1938 it attracted the attention of Her Majesty, the Queen.

This exhibition represents the first fruits of a small committee appointed some months ago in Victoria to advance the revival of their native gifts of carving, painting, weaving, etc., among our Indian fellow Canadians. Another objective is also now in view, the publication in the fall of "The Tale of the Nativity" as told by the children on the Inkampeep Reserve, with illustrations by Sis-Hu-Lk.

Further information about the committee's work can be obtained from the secretary, Miss Alice Ravenhill, Windermere Hotel.

Princess Alice Arrives in Grey

HALIFAX—Her Royal Highness Princess Alice, Countess of Athlone, wife of Canada's new Governor-General, sister-in-law of Queen Mother Mary, granddaughter of Queen Victoria and blood relative to much of the Royalty of Europe, is a slender woman of striking personality. Yesterday when she arrived here she matched her husband's smile for smile in the few moments before they stepped into their automobile.

She wore a grey dress cut on princess lines with short sleeves and fagotted pockets. The neckline was scalloped. Her hat was a small turban fashioned of green and wine flowers. Her accessories were grey. Her bag was a gray draped envelope model, and she wore grey pumps of suede and kid. For jewelry she wore three strands of pearls and dropped brilliant earrings. Her hip-length cape was of silver fox, on it a wine velvet flower.

On the rear end of the train, before it pulled out, the Earl and Princess posed repeatedly for photographers.

School Raises $105 For Ambulance

A welcome donation of $105 towards the purchase of an ambulance was made to the Victoria Red Cross today as a result of the delightful program and tea staged by the children of Bank Street School yesterday afternoon.

The affair was convened by Mrs. R. B. Simm, one of the mothers, with the assistance of Miss A. M. Paterson, the principal, and the members of the teaching staff. About 80 children of Grades 1 to 4, ranging in age from six to nine years, took part in the outdoor entertainment, which opened with the singing of patriotic songs, with Mrs. N. Bertucci at the piano. After this children of Grades 2, 3 and 4 gave some charming folk dances on the lawn, and the smaller children of Grade 1 followed with some pretty singing games, and Rosemary Treason danced a Highland fling. Mrs. V. Taylor and Miss Hobkirk directed the folk dancing.

Miss F. FitzGibbon, representing the Red Cross, spoke in appreciation of the active interest of the children and their teachers, and told of the needs of the Red Cross. Miss Paterson, in thanking Miss FitzGibbon, also took occasion to thank all the generous friends who had helped the children make the affair such a success.

The tea arrangements were very attractive, the decorations of the room being carried out in a patriotic motif of red, white and blue flowers. On the tea table these were arranged in a silver basket. The pourers were Mrs. A. S. Christie, Mrs. G. W. Pottinger and Mrs. S. Glover, and mothers assisting were Mesdames W. Bayliss, Knott, Coverdale, Robb, A. Page and G. Finn. The tea cashier was Mrs. W. Sinclair, and seven little girls, wearing nurses' uniforms, waited on the guests: Andree Pettigrew, Jean Page, Phyllis...

Social and Personal

Mrs. Gordon Page was hostess yesterday afternoon at her home, 398 Gorge Road West, at tea in aid of the Gorge Unit of the Red Cross. Mrs. J. Addison and Mrs. George Allen presided at the tea table, which was covered with a lace cloth and centred with a silver bowl of sweet peas, flanked by mauve flowers in silver scones. A canopy of streamers in pastel shades was formed over the table. Summer flowers were arranged throughout the rooms.

In honor of Miss Betsy Sharp a miscellaneous shower was held Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. R. Wall, Earl Grey Street. The gifts were concealed in a miniature sailboat "pretty" decorated in pink and yellow. Games were enjoyed during the evening after which a hot supper was served.

Misses Ann Sharp, Annie Emery, Clara Emery, Nellie Brayshaw and Mesdames P. Sharp, G. Townsend, B. McKibben, D. Kirkendale, P. Martin and E. Mathison.

Parksville Favored as Holiday Spot

For years Parksville has been a favored summer community. It has everything that appeals to vacationists in addition to being a prosperous district of farmlands and many lovely homes.
Sited at the crossroads of two main highways, Parksville is an ideal spot from which to explore the whole of northern Vancouver Island. On the Alberni road, cutting right across the island, there is Cameron Lake, Modat Arrowmouth, famous Cathedral Grove and Sprout Lake. North from Parksville, the Courtenay Highway leads to Qualicum, bell River and Forbes Landing. All easily reached within a day.

The beach at Parksville extends in a wide sweep of sand, the whole length of the shoreline. A sandbar, almost a mile wide, with no rocks or holes, makes it perfect for children to play all day long in the sunshine while mothers, with no fear for their safety, relax and rest. The water is warm and clear for swimming.
Fishing attracts tourists to the district, too. There are many rivers and lakes in the Parksville district. Best known is Englishman's River and its famous falls, where the Forestry Department of British Columbia have created a park and picnic grounds for the convenience of visitors. Salmon fishing is good for many months of the year in the waters adjacent to the district.
Modern stores, a bank, good garages and up-to-the-minute accommodation for tourists complete this interesting summer community. The climate is perfect, with a maximum of sunshine. Permanent residents claim that because of its situation, the sun shines along the shoreline at Parksville when it is raining not very far away.

MODERN ACCOMMODATION

Wing's Parksville Camp, on the main highway, just north of the townsite, is recognized as one of the finest auto camps on Vancouver Island. Situated in an acreage of flower gardens and woodland trees, on a headland overlooking the sea, the cottages present a pleasant appearance to all vacation seekers. Paths lead down to a private beach where there is good safe bathing for all. Every cottage is spotlessly clean and, small or large, have every modern convenience, including flush toilets. They are completely furnished and have good stoves and comfortable beds. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wing have created a model camp in an ideal situation. Once visited it will be returned to again.

NEW CAMPS

A new auto camp, the Edgewater Park Tourist Camp and a new Guest House have been opened at Parksville this season. This in itself speaks for the increasing popularity of the community.

Seamen's Chief Held in Toronto

TORONTO (CP)—J. A. (Pat) Sullivan, of Montreal and Toronto, president of the Canadian Seamen's Union, was arrested today on a charge laid under the Defence of Canada regulations. He was taken to Don Jail here.

Details of the charge were withheld by police and the Toronto headquarters of the union said it had not received word of the arrest. Sullivan is reported to have been taken into custody at his hotel.

J. L. Cohen, K.C., counsel for the union in a conciliation hearing now in progress here, said that he "could hardly credit" the arrest.

The union, representing employees on Great Lakes ships, has submitted demands for an eight-hour day, extra pay for overtime, and other concessions, including a closed shop. Ship owners and union representatives are engaged at the present time in a conciliation board hearing. Mr. Justice C. P. McTague of the Ontario Supreme Court is chairman of the board.

The union called a strike on the eve of the opening of the Great Lakes navigation season two months ago and most vessels remained tied up for approximately 10 days after the opening. The union called off the strike when ship owners agreed to negotiate.

Sullivan directed strike operations from his hotel suite and has been prominent in the conciliation hearings.

Labor Rules Made To Prevent Gaps In Production

OTTAWA (CP)—Strikes or lockouts during the war are frowned on in a set of principles to govern labor matters promulgated in an order-in-council tabled in the House of Commons this afternoon.

The order declares for continued freedom of labor organization.

The principles announced are:

1. Every effort should be made to speed production by war industries.

2. Fair and reasonable standards of wages and working conditions should be recognized and where any temporary adjustments in remuneration are made, due to war conditions, they might well be in the form of bonus payments.

3. Hours of work should not be unduly extended, but where increased output is desired it should be secured as far as practicable by the adoption of additional shifts throughout the week. Experience during the last war showed that an undue lengthening of working hours results in excessive fatigue and in a diminution of output.

4. Established safeguards and regulations for the protection of the health and safety of the workers should not be relaxed, but every precaution should be taken to ensure safe and healthful conditions of work.

5. There should be no interruption in productive or distributing operations on account of strikes or lockouts. Where any difference arises which cannot be settled by negotiations between the parties, assistance in effecting a settlement should be sought from the government conciliation services.

6. Failing settlement of the difference in this manner, it should be dealt with in accordance with the provisions of the Industrial Disputes Investigation Act, which has been extended under the War Measures Act to apply specifically to all war work.

7. Employees should be free to organize in trade unions, free from any control by employers or their agents. In this connection, attention is drawn to the Criminal Code, under which it is declared to be an offence, subject to prescribed penalties, for any employer or his agent wrongfully and without lawful authority to refuse to employ, or to dismiss from employment, any person because of his membership in a lawful trade union, or to use intimidation to prevent a workman from belonging to a trade union, or to conspire with other employers to do either of such acts.

8. Game wardens have requested that any persons finding fawns leave them alone, unless they are in need of help from a veterinarian. It is against the law to harbor game of any kind, and persons found doing so are liable to prosecution under the Game Act.

9. Many persons who think that they are doing a humane act by picking up fawns which are apparently lost may not realize that the mother of the game may be close by, watching her offspring.

10. Canada produces about 10 per cent of the maple products consumed in the United States.

PORT ALBERNI—At a public meeting held at City Hall Dr. C. T. Hilton was appointed head of the war savings committee. With him were appointed G. H. Bell, manager of Royal Bank of Canada; A. H. Wylie, manager of Bank of Montreal; and Eric J. Dunn, principal of Alberni District High School.

Habitual Constipation Is a Danger Signal

Constipation is always bad enough... it drags you down; makes you feel headachy, dull, irritable. But when constipation becomes a habit, look out! It usually tends to get worse and worse. Frequent resort to harsh purgatives and other emergency treatments only makes you the more dependent on them.

The one sensible way to treat constipation is to get at the cause. Common constipation often results from not getting enough of the kind of food that will help form a "bulky" mass in the intestine.

If this is your case, you should eat Kellogg's All-Bran. It only takes a small amount—an ounce a day—is enough for most people—but you must have it regularly and drink plenty of water. Get a package at your grocer's today and just see what a world of difference it makes when you keep "regular." Made by Kellogg's in London, Canada.

Normal School Annual Out

The 23rd yearly publication of the Provincial Normal School in Victoria just released bears ample evidence of the wide scope of activities undertaken to teach this province's schoolchildren their three Rs and has the added distinction of being the first annual in the history of the school to be printed by off-set press, the students having executed the drawings, cut stencils, stapled and bound the book at the school.

This forward step reflects credit on the enterprise of Dr. V. L. Denton, principal since 1917 when he succeeded D. L. McLaurin who launched the school in 1915 and, advanced, experiments that have placed B.C. in the lead of normal schools throughout Canada.

Activities participated in by the 118 men and women in this year's graduating class are reviewed in the attractively bound book, called "Anecho," under the titles: Literary Society, Clyde Kennedy, president; Eva McCormick, vice-president; Helen M. Aho, secretary; Jean Ratnay, June Day, Gertrude Neilson, Harry Ferne, class representatives; athletic association, J. E. Tait, president; Elizabeth Poole, vice-president; Noel Deans, secretary; Adelaide Thompson, Myrtle Gummer, Marion McCulloch, Ben Moore, class representatives, whose activities include basketball, swimming, table tennis, badminton, grass hockey, social activities, musical programs, the members of the orchestra being Dudley Wickett, director, assisted by Mr. Gough, violinists James Robson, Roy Blodgett, George Hardwick, Joseph Bianco, Lillian Walker, viola, Jean Beasom; cello, Mavis Dunsmore; clarinet, Michael White; trombone, Robert Fleming; pianist, Betty Muncy; drama and debating society under the student guidance of Bruce Mickleburgh, president; George

"Oh, George, I'm not superstitious—let's just walk in!"

Sinclair, vice-president; June Wigen, secretary; Mildred Graham, Suzanne Butler, Rosa Stewart, Alan Batey, class representatives.

Striking cuts throughout the magazine and the cover design, depicting a totem pole and a tree framing an Indian canoe and Captain Cook's schooner in the setting sun, were executed by George Sinclair.

Students responsible for its publication were: Rosa T. Stewart, editor; Harry Ferne, business manager; John Lidstone, art editor; Helen M. Aho, literary; Alan Batey, dramatic and debating; Ben Moore, athletic; Heather Fottinger, social; and Mavis Dunsmore, music.

ASTRONOMERS TO START NEW COURSE

A course of summer evenings with the stars, consisting of lectures by well-known local amateur and professional astronomers, telescopic views of the heavens, identification and study of constellations and a visit to the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory on Little Saanich Mountain, will be sponsored by the Victoria branch of the Royal Astronomical Society, starting on July 22. Meetings will be held each Monday evening from July 22 until August 26 at Victoria College.

Those who intend taking the course, which is particularly prepared for those beginning the study of astronomy, are asked to register with the secretary, William Petrie, or any other officers of the local society, as early as possible. The secretary may be contacted by phoning E 0753.

Telescopes will be available after each lecture meeting so that the beginners may have an opportunity to view the heavens and to study the various celestial phenomena that they learn of during the lecture periods.

The summer course will be as follows: July 22, "Figures of the Stars," H. Boyd Brydon; July 29, "The Changing Stars," Dr. R. M. Petrie; August 5, the visit to the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory; August 12, "The Moon, Our Nearest Neighbor," P. H. Hughes; August 19, a visit to the Dominion Meteorological Observatory; and August 26, "The Milky Way and the Island Universes," Dr. K. O. Wright.

BUTTER CARVERS WORK AT FAIR

Of special interest at the 79th annual exhibition of the B.C. Agricultural Association to be held at the Willows from September 7 to 14 inclusive will be the dairy and dairy products section. Every encouragement is being given this year for the display of bulk butter carved into intriguing designs and pastoral scenes. Also beekeepers are being encouraged to display bees in observation hives so that the public may see how honey is made. Displays of honey with a background of floral decorations showing where the bees have obtained their product will be another feature.

Nearly $300 in cash prizes have been set aside for these two sections, and an increased list of entries are looked for.

AMBULANCE GIVEN BY MAYNARDS

The Victoria branch of the Canadian Red Cross announces the donation by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Maynard of 884 Esquimalt Road of a fully-equipped ambulance, in response to the recent appeal for these vehicles.

This ambulance will bear the name of the donors, and will shortly be in use overseas.

To date three ambulances have been contributed locally, and approximately 35 from residents and organizations in the province.

Fair Murals Will Be Shown Here

Murals from the government's exhibit at Treasure Island will be on display at the Willows exhibition in September, E. G. Rowbottom, deputy minister of trade and industry, said today.

The display is being sent first to the Canadian-Pacific Exhibition in Vancouver and the murals will be brought back to Victoria after that fair has closed.

DEFEATISM PLAGUE HITLER'S BEST ALLY

Joseph Rose, Douglas Street jeweler, has received the following interesting letter from G. Dinmore, of the well-known firm of Canada, Wm. A. Rogers Ltd. of Toronto:

"It is a truism to say that our Empire and world freedom are passing through the most critical period in history, and one of our greatest dangers is surrender to the spirit of pessimism and defeat. The great ally of Hitler in his campaign of destruction is the propaganda of defeatism with which he has infected the nations. It is a plague which we must fight as we would fight smallpox or malaria.

"Yes, we are passing through dark days, but let us not forget the dark days of the last Great War. We were defeated many times, but refused to accept defeat. For example, eight days after the outbreak of hostilities in 1914, the news of the retreat from Mons caused our hearts to sink within us, but when the British troops eventually returned the inhabitants of Mons said, 'We saw you going, but we never saw you coming back.' They felt that in that retreat the last chapter had not been written, and in the retreat from Belgium during the last few days the last chapter has not been written.

"In 1917 Lloyd George said: 'We are passing through dark and dangerous times, but France and Britain will never quit. We are in this thing to win, and if need be, we will be in it to the last man and last dollar.'

"Napoleon said, 'The British lost every battle but the last; they accept reverses with fortitude.' The King knew his people well when he said, 'Keep your chin up and dare to smile,' and then he warned us that the only two alternatives today were life and death. While our fighting men are going through Hell, performing deeds of greatest heroism, the rest of us, whether in uniforms or not, have no right to live in peacetime comfort. We must share in their service and sacrifice, nothing else today is of any moment: it were better to die fighting for the things which are at stake, than to live on if they should perish from the earth. Defeat would mean nothing less than that.

"Prosperity and comforts are for the free, and freedom is for those who have the courage to fight for it."

Wouldn't Be Enough

If all nine of the planets (Earth, Jupiter, Mars, Mercury, Neptune, Saturn, Pluto, Uranus and Venus) were melted into a single planet, it would take 700 of these super-planets to weigh as much as the sun.

Chronic diseases cause half the deaths in this country and in the United States.

Sunday Movie Show To Aid War Savings

Sunday performances in British Columbia theatres for one day will be permitted under a plan advanced by the motion picture industry to raise money for the war savings loans.

Attorney-General Wismer announced today he had wired consent to Famous Players Ltd. to stage the Sunday shows. It is planned to hold them on July 14.

Admission to the shows will be by purchase of war savings stamps. Thus the receipts will go to the war effort and the public will retain the stamps.

"The cause is so worthy that I think it is a proper case for the relaxation of the law," Mr. Wismer said.

Under the Lord's Day Alliance Act consent of the Attorney-General is required before a prosecution can be made for non-observance.

Mr. Wismer said he had assured the motion picture people that he would not consent to any prosecutions.

STARS TO APPEAR

According to advices from the east the picture industry plans to have special screen features shown at the performances all over Canada. In many of the large theatres screen personages from Hollywood will make personal appearances.

A principal reason for holding the performances on Sunday night is to enable as many screen players as possible to be flown to various Canadian points and back to their studios the following day.

The sum of $1,000,000 has been set as the objective.

An executive representing the Canadian film industry was appointed at a meeting in Toronto yesterday with N. L. Nathanson as chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements. Louis B. Mayer, vice-president in charge of production at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios, has accepted the chairmanship of the committee in Hollywood. He is a former resident of Saint John, N.B.

In Ontario Attorney-General Gordon Conant said "nothing should be allowed to interfere with so splendid a gesture," but added that federal and provincial laws forbade Sunday theatres in that province. He said that "unless and until the laws are amended, no Dominion official can grant absolute immunity."

In northern Sweden, mining operations have recently discovered 50 minerals new in that country's industrial development.

France's Dwindling Air Force Fights On

When French eyes look skyward, some are lucky enough to see French patrol planes like these. Though greatly outnumbered, the flying skill of France's pilots has won admiration of even their foes.

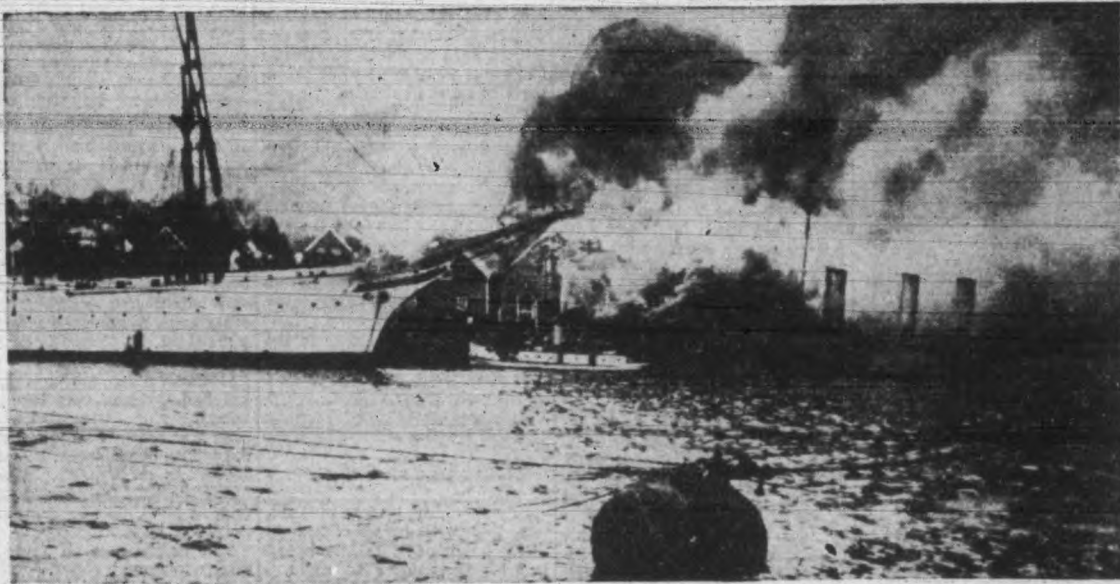

Charred fragments of fuselage, French planes that have made their last flight, litter unnamed French airport after recent Nazi bombing raid. Enemy plane, in flight, surveys wreckage from air. The main French air fleet has gone to Africa from where it will continue to fight.

Life Begins Again at 40

Australia raises the age limit for enlistment to 40 years, and these are among the men answering the call. All are veterans of the first world war, as the medal ribbons on their breasts signify. Probability is that they will be kept in Australia for home defence as Japan is now reported casting her eyes Australia-ward.

Nazi Ships Feel the Sting of Royal Air Force Bombers

Drafting of Youth Proposed by Roosevelt

For the first time in the United States' peacetime history, the President suggests that Congress consider compulsory universal government service for American youth. The idea, said the President, does not necessarily mean training for combat duty. It means more specifically training in the following categories: combat service; duties in uniform behind fighting lines; non-uniform technical training for work in industrial units; conservation training to preserve the nation's natural resources. Above composite shows the four branches of compulsory training which the President predicts for the United States. (NEA telephoto).

Although the war news from Europe has pushed the Far Eastern news into the background, the Japanese-Chinese war still goes on. These Japanese infantrymen were photographed attacking near TsaoYang in Hupei province, where the Chinese soldiers of Chiang Kai-shek still harry the invader. This week the Japanese continued the unmerciful bombing of the Chinese capital, Chungking, from the air, announcing that such bombing would go on daily until the Chinese were subdued.

The defence works that have made Gibraltar invulnerable since 1704 have been modernized to be just as safe from attack by air. So say British army engineers who finished what nature began in making the rock a fortress. The specially-trained defenders of "Old Gib" believe they can hold out indefinitely against siege and at the same time beat off any enemy attempt to force passage through the mighty Atlantic gateway to the Mediterranean.

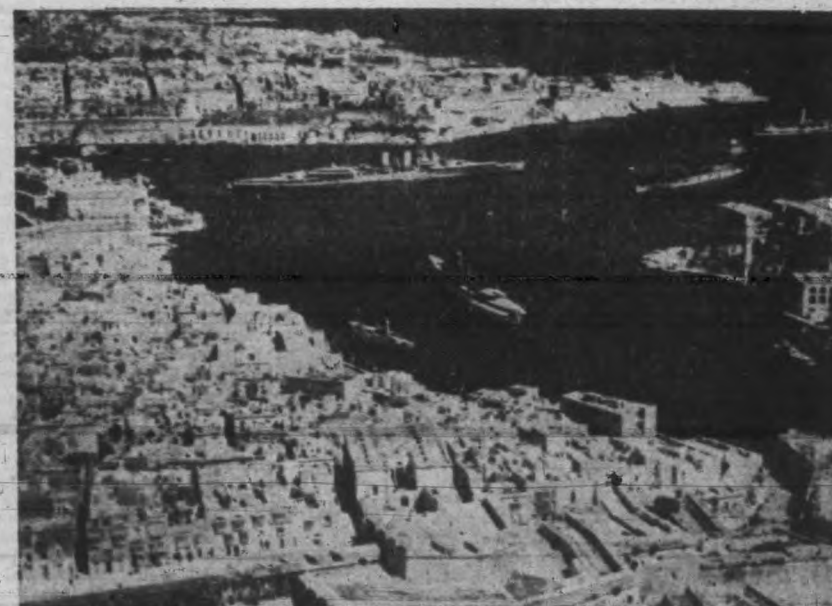

General Albert Nogués, commander of France's North African army, who, with General Eugene Mitterhauser, in command of the French army in the Near East, is reported to have decided to continue fighting. While Il Duce cries for France's Tunisia, his navy stays safely in port. Allied naval forces roam the Italian coast during Mussolini's fleet to "come out and fight," but the latter play safe. Meanwhile, France has strengthened the defences of its African colony. This parade of heavy tanks in Tunisia was photographed recently.

Spain Takes Over Policing of Tangier

To safeguard the neutrality and independence of Tangier, 225-mile demilitarized zone directly across Mediterranean from Gibraltar, Gen. Franco recently sent two divisions of Spanish troops and a destroyer to its capital city, Tangier, seen above.

Mas, with its two fine harbors, has been the object of several Italian raids. The Mers Anjouville Harbor is shown here. In her attacks on Italian air bases in Africa Britain is believed to have seriously crippled Italian striking power.

GLANCING over eastern reports of the recent United States open golf championship we notice where Walter Hagen arrived late at the first tee, as usual, to open the first round. Jimmy Thomson and Johnny Goodman, with whom he was paired, had reached the first green. Tournament officials debated disqualifying the veteran.

"What were you doing? Did you stop to practice some shots before you came over here?" asked one of them.

Whereupon Hagen whacked a 230-yard drive down the fairway, and ran off to catch up with his partners... a large gallery at his heels.

"Never Another Jones" is the title of a piece in the recent issue of a weekly magazine. Someone should write "Never Another Hagen."

Not only did Hagen have the greatest competitive record over a long period of years, but he contributed more to professional golf than any other player.

Until Hagen came along, the professional went to the rear of the clubhouse with his hat in his hand. He was treated like the gardener or any other employee.

But Hagen took the position he was entitled to as many privileges as anyone.

And his personality helped him to entirely wipe out the division between the amateur and the professional.

In the old days, professionals dressed poorly. Hagen showed them how to dress. In major tournaments now they all look as though they had just stepped out of a haberdashery.

It is unfair to compare the playing records of Hagen, the professional, and Bobby Jones, the amateur.

Hagen at his peak could not afford to take time away from tournaments and exhibitions to prepare for the United States Open, as did Jones. He went into it following weeks of travel and constant play.

But Hagen clearly demonstrated he was the daddy of them all at match play when in 1926 he defeated Jones, 11 and 10, in a 72-hole match in Florida.

Hagen performed the amazing feat of winning the P.G.A. championship four successive times.

Although golf is distinctly not a spectators' game, Hagen earned close to a $1,000,000 in it in one way or another.

Hagen was paid more money for a single match than any other golfer... $6,800 for his meeting with Jones at Sarasota and Pasadena.

Hagen got $2,500 for taking his worst beating from Archie Compston, who won 18 up and 17 to play, at the Moor Park Golf Club, north of London.

Ten days later he won the third of his four British Opens at Sandwich.

That was Hagen... always. He was golf's greatest scambler. Whenever he looked bad he was able to make himself look good again quickly and with ridiculous ease.

Hagen still makes golf look easy, and galleries follow him at 47.

But while he won more than 60 major titles, Walter Hagen deserves even more credit for elevating the standards of the professionals.

Never another Hagen.

Gasmen Leave Eagles in Hole

Pitzer and Nex's 9 to 6 win over Eagles in senior baseball at Athletic Park last evening, puts them in second place with Tillam Athletic, leaving the birdmen all alone at the bottom of the standing.

Navy is leading the league with three wins out of four games; Athletics and Pitzer and Nex both have won two games and lost two and Eagles have won one game out of four attempts.

In last night's game, Pitzer and Nex scored all of their runs in two innings, three in the third and six in the sixth. Eagles failed to hit the scoring column until the fifth when they pushed one tally across. A second was scored in the seventh and four were collected in the eighth and final inning.

The gasmen hit 13 safeties, three of which were for extra bases, from the offerings of Russ Richardson and Stan Davies.

It was Richardson's first defeat of the season. He was taken from the mound half way through the sixth inning, in favor of Davies. Richardson fanned three and Davies two.

Ray Maitland worked on the mound for the gasmen. He gave seven hits and struck out nine. Noel Morgan, smart first sacker of Pitzer and Nex, was "beamed" in the sixth inning and was removed to hospital for observation.

Champs Beaten In Club Tennis

Yesterday's play in the C.P.R. Tennis Club championships witnessed the defeat of the defending men's doubles team of Temple and Margison. The title holders went down before the steady play of Silingsby and Harrison 1-6, 6-2, 6-4.

Finals are scheduled Sunday. Results follow:

Len Woodhouse Golf Winner

Victorians continued to visit Macdonald Park yesterday to try their skill in the Solarium hole-in-one contest. Leader of the large entry was Len Woodhouse with a tee shot that rolled within one and three-quarter inches of the cup.

Miss May Newcombe was second closest with a shot only three inches away and Dr. Angus McInnes finished third, being one foot three and a half inches from a dodo.

The lucky shot winners were Hon. John Hart, Jim McGary, Mrs. W. Bowden and W. Johnson. Public are reminded that both clubs and balls are provided at the scene of the tournament.

Today's prize list and the donors follow: Cash prize $12.50, by Sidney Rubber Roofing Company; golf club, by Phil Taylor.

Oak Bay Golf Club: pen and pencil set, Smith, Davidson and Wright; fog lamp, by National Motor Company; pipe, Macdonald's Consolidated; flashlight, Jeffrey and Jeffrey; plover raincoats, Victoria Box and Paper Company.

Uplands Golfers To Travel Sunday

Five Share Lead

SEATTLE (AP)—A couple of "Buds" from Olympia, Wash., who grew up together and learned how to play golf together were among the five golfers tied for first day medalist honors as contestants entered the second day of the Pacific northwest open tourney today.

The "Buds" were Bud Ward, now of Spokane, United States amateur champion and defending northwest open titlist, and Bud Haskell, still of Olympia and still potent.

Ward and Haskell, together with Harry Givan, former U.S. Walker Cup amateur from Seattle, and professional Chuck Congdon of Tacoma and Ken Tucker of Everett, negotiated the par 70

Sand Point Golf Club course yesterday in 67 strokes.

Bunched at par 70 were Sherman Ellworthy, St. Louis, Mo.; Eddie Hogan, Portland, Ore.; Freddie Wood, Vancouver, B.C.; pro; Harry Miller, Seattle amateur; Al Zimmerman, Portland pro, and Ralph Whaley, giant Seattle amateur, the only man past 50 years of age in the tournament.

The entire field of more than 80 entries was to play a second 18 holes today. Tomorrow, the tourney concludes with 36 holes by the top 25 amateurs and the top professionals, plus ties.

B.C. Racing to Start June 29

VANCOUVER (CP)—Officials of the Vancouver Racing Association announced yesterday that double tickets would be sold on the first and second and sixth and seventh races daily at race tracks here this summer.

The quinella or one-two has been discarded. Last season the one-two was shelved for opening meetings at the mile tracks, but was renewed on the second swing around the circuit.

Officials said that government regulations concerning the operation of the double pools had been changed from previous seasons, and so they decided on the separate pools.

Meanwhile preparations for the opening of the season, June 29, at Lansdowne Park, are being rushed to completion. Secretary A. R. Dingman, Judge Billy McKeon and Earle Lewis have already checked all horses and trainers at the Lulu Island stables.

Licenses will be issued next week when jockeys' applications will also be considered.

The six-week racing season operates on three tracks here, Lansdowne, Brighouse and Hastings Park, and an additional two weeks racing is held at Willows Park in Victoria.

the men's team: Vic Painter, Ken Lawson, A. G. Craig, G. Bevedge, A. Morgan, Eric Hiberson, A. Lickley, W. Court, J. R. Angus, Vic Lea, D. Fletcher, A. Chapman, L. N. Harvey, N. Florence, B. E. Rugged Godoy Gets Second Chance at Louis Tonight

North Shore Is Overtime Victor

VANCOUVER (CP)—North Shore United were extended to 30 minutes of overtime before defeating St. Saviours 3 to 2 in a second round soccer game in the Province Cup series at Con Jones Park last night.

With the score knotted 2 to 2 at the end of the regular time, both put on the pressure in the extra session. North Shore, however, soon got the edge when Don Matheson rammed in the winning tally after goalie Dan Kulai had kicked out a shot by Norm McLeod.

The Tigers played better ball in the first half of the match but were weak around the posts. North Shore carried the punch near the goal and went into the lead midway through the half on a cross by Matheson.

Jack Muir, St. Saviours right winger, evened the count shortly after the rest but Mike McManus again sent the Reds into the lead midway through the half on a cross by Matheson.

Tommy Milstead evened the count at 2 to 2 three minutes from time when he tallied with a header from Muir's cross from the right wing.

Medwick Case Causes Worry

NEW YORK (AP)—An early decision by Ford C. Frick on charges that the "beaming" of Brooklyn outfielder Joe Medwick by Bob Bowman of St. Louis Cardinals was deliberate appeared remote last night as the National League president declared he would take no action until the results of an investigation by District Attorney William O'Dwyer's office were known.

Hinting that baseball could keep its own shirts clean, and that he was not interested in the civil aspect of the case, Frick said: "Even if I do make up my mind, I would not make any announcement under the circumstances. Suppose I should suspend Bowman, that would be taken as proof of his guilt."

Frick spent four hours yesterday interviewing everyone who might throw some light on Tuesday's incident, when Medwick was felled and suffered a concussion.

MANY INTERVIEWED

He said he had asked only Leo Durocher, Brooklyn manager; Bowman; Johnny Mitze, Cardinal first baseman; Pepper Martin, Cardinal outfielder, and Larry MacPhail, Brooklyn club president, to the hearing, but practically the entire Cardinal team trooped to the league office, and before the lengthy testimony was ended many other players, as well as two or three Brooklyn fans, had been called in.

Bowman obviously was nervous. He was called in twice. He later reiterated an earlier statement that Medwick was his friend and the beaming was unintentional.

MacPhail was as emphatic in his opinion that the beaming was intentional. "We presented our case to the effect that we believed it was intentional," he said, "and backed it with the statements of two St. Louis players."

Senior Softball Leaders to Play

Senior A softball league leaders, Victoria Longshoremen and Cameron Lumber, No. 2 team, will be seen in action at Athletic Park this evening in what promises to be the battle of the season.

The lumbermen have been strengthened considerably with the addition of Bob McKean and "Forky" Andrews. With these two new players Camerons were nosed out 4 to 3 by the stevedores in their last meeting.

"But it'll be a far different story tonight," say the boys from the lumber mill. "We've got those birds spotted."

Camerons moved closer to the leaders last Tuesday when they beat Brundson's Veterans 8 to 4 in the only game played.

Brundson's will play Garrison also this evening at Victoria West Park.

Starting time for both fixtures is 6.15.

Harknett Fuel, leaders of B section, took it on the chin, 10 to 8, at the hands of H.M.C. Dockyard in a bit of an upset last night.

Dockyard workers were behind 3 to 1 at the end of the fourth, but seven runs in the sixth and seventh innings did the trick.

Bull Brothers squeezed out a 3 to 2 win over 2nd A.A. Battery at Victoria West, making the winning run in the eighth inning.

At Central Park, Lemon Gonna-son eked out a 3 to 2 victory over the Times when in the 13th inning Billsborough, lumbermen's hurler, laid down a beautiful but to score Hank Rowe for the winning run.

Spencers got off to a good start by scoring four markers in the opening frame. The final score was 10 to 2 in the storemen's favor.

Spencer's Park was the scene of a never-to-be-repeated C section tussle with Cameron Lumber emerging winners 36 to 34 over Navy after a hectic session for the scorekeeper.

In senior A women's section, Cardinals smothered Hunt's Garage 24 to 3, at Sidney.

The Cardinals only out-hit the Sidney maids 10 to 8, but had fielding allowed them to go to town on the bases.

Speculation Over Length Of Battle

By GALE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—Arturo Godoy of Chile, who is something less than an inspired fighter, gets his second chance at the world heavyweight championship tonight when, barring rain, he meets Joe Louis over the 15-round route in Yankee Stadium.

Their first scrap last February 9 was far from sensational, yet the mere fact he lasted the full 15 heats with the negro champion qualified the South American iron man for an encore. The betting is 5 to 1 against Godoy lifting the title, yet most experts give him an excellent chance of going the limit again.

The build-up for this, Louis' 11th defence of his crown, has emphasized the negro's well-known pride in the power of his fists and his dislike of having an opponent remain erect to the final bell. He has without fail knocked out every man he met the second time, and his followers are convinced he will smash Godoy tonight.

HAS CONFIDENCE

He might be the task promises difficulties. Louis in a better shape than he was the other time and is in a vengeful frame of mind. But so is his rugged, powerful rival in better condition, and Godoy besides is brimming with confidence born of their other bout. In size they are about a stand-off.

Godoy possibly is the only fighter, barring maybe Schmeling and Galento, who has gone into the ring with Louis the champion totally without fear and confident of winning. That is something on his side. Also he has proved to his own satisfaction, at least, that he can absorb the Louis blows.

Tale of the tape on Jouis and Godoy follows:

Entire Country Places Chevrolet First In Sales

Yes, for the ninth time in the last 10 years the famous General Motors Car, "Chevrolet," is first in sales, not just in one city or one section of the country, but throughout Canada, throughout the U.S. and throughout the World. That is a record which surely must mean something and everywhere car-wise, value-wise people are flocking to the Chevrolet Showrooms to find out just what it DOES mean. When they see it they just can't wait until they get their hands on the steering wheel of this big beauty—leading Chevrolet with the Swank "Fisher Clipper" styling, with its 181-inch measurement from front grille to rear of body, which makes it the LONGEST of all lowest-priced cars. And then they find that they just don't want to get out from behind that steering wheel once they have tested Chevrolet action.

For THIS car out-accelerates and out-climbs all other cars in its price range—out-rides them, too, on smooth or rough roads, with the majestic smoothness and safety of its riding qualities—and gives you these better qualities at the MINIMUM cost for gas, oil and upkeep. No wonder every day sees more and more curious drivers visiting the Victoria Showrooms of Wilson & Cabell up on Yates Street at the corner of Vancouver. (Adv.)

Defence Aid Is Pledged

NANAIMO, B.C. (CP) — A resolution pledging their determination to support the Dominion and provincial governments in any measures they may take for the defence of the Empire was adopted at the morning session of the Associated Boards of Trade of Vancouver Island today.

The resolution affirmed their willingness to submit willingly to any sacrifice which citizens may be called upon to make.

It came as sequel to a preamble expressing approval of the Mobilization Bill now before the Canadian House.

On war matters the convention also approved the idea of war savings certificates and guaranteeing to enlisted men their jobs on return to civilian life.

The board defeated a motion of resort organizations voiced through Parkville and Qualicum Beach asking for advertising in Vancouver and Victoria papers by Provincial Tourist Trade Bureau to stimulate travel rather than through United States sources, it being argued that a valuable field in B.C. and prairies was overlooked.

Publicity Commissioner George J. Warren, Victoria, as member of the Travel Council, said prairie work was looked after, and the policy was to introduce U.S. visitors, letting local association deal with individual routing of tourists inside the province.

A motion to ask extension of the period of holidays, in order to facilitate the use of resort camps, hotels, etc., was withdrawn after discussion.

MAORIDE ON RECRUITING

Duncan MacBride, president of Victoria Chambers of Commerce, and president of the Associated Boards, in his address, dealt with the services which such joint commercial organizations could render to the national war effort, particularly in recruiting.

Motion of condolence on the late W. R. Mitchell, past president, was adopted.

Business session continuing in afternoon, followed by visit to Newcastle Island as guests of B.C. Coast Steamship Service.

A meeting of all ex-service men on the Saanich Peninsula will be held June 24 at 8 in Orange Hall, Saanichton. All ex-service men are urged to be present.

Cadet Training To Be Revived

Military cadet training in British Columbia schools is the next step in this province's contribution to the war effort.

Hon. G. M. Weir, Minister of Education, declared today: "The time has come when cadet training should be reintroduced in the schools, and particularly the high schools."

Dr. Weir said such training would be on a voluntary basis and could be started with the new school term in the fall.

"It is not necessary," he said, "to enlarge on the disciplinary and moral values of such training. But in fairness to our youth they should not become the victims of unpreparedness."

"We now have compulsory military service for home front. Military training for home defence would probably be hastened where cadet corps are in operation. Had the cadet corps not been disbanded the results of the training would have proved of particular benefit in the present grave crisis."

Dr. Weir said that the cost of equipment and uniforms must be defrayed by the federal government, but he was sure there would be no difficulty in securing the co-operation of the Ottawa authorities. He discussed the matter informally with the district officer commanding soon after the outbreak of war.

The minister said cadet training was not intended to make youth military-minded in the brute sense, but to equip them to meet the forces of barbarism.

"After all," he said, "we are living in a mad world, not a Utopia. In any event we are in a crisis and the state is enforcing on a somewhat different scale what formerly was a voluntary enterprise."

BOARD CHAIRMAN APPROVES

Cadet training in city schools today received strong approval of Trustee Percy E. George, chairman of the School Board.

"I have long been in favor of compulsory cadet training in schools for I feel it provides the discipline for youth which is being lost in the homes," Trustee George said.

"While I have not favored the over-emphasis of the military side of this work, it will doubtless serve to equip our youth for the years to come. I believe it is a splendid thing for the coordination of the mind and body and it has always been my experience to find the boys enjoyed the work. Discipline never harmed any boy, but rather helped to build him up, allay fear and inculcate a spirit of self respect into him," he said.

ARMY CAMPAIGN

The Salvation Army's campaign for funds to carry out work with His Majesty's forces and to continue home services was approximately $1,000 short of its $20,000 objective today.

Canvassing will continue until Saturday. It is hoped to cover all districts before that time.

Total pledges to date are $19,043.30.

The advance gifts division has turned in $7,958.11. Its quota is $12,000. The business division has turned in $2,080.75, which is $80.75 past its quota. The residential section has given $5,384.62, which is $2,384.62 above the quota. The industrial division has turned in $2,705.47. Its quota is $2,600. The government and schools division's quota of $500 has been passed by $220.35. The remaining amount is unclassified.

URGES CITIZENS TO PREVENT FIRES

In view of the extreme fire hazard which has been created by the hot sun and parching winds, Alderman Archie Willis, chairman of the fire wardens of the City Council, issued an appeal this morning for extreme caution on the part of all Victorians.

"Conditions in the city are bad at the present time, and the slightest carelessness may cause a serious fire," Alderman Willis said. "In many parts of our parks and on the roadsides the grass is very dry and already small fires have started through someone tossing lighted cigarette butts out of cars."

"Despite the alertness of the fire department there is a danger that some of these small fires, fanned by the prevailing high winds, may assume dangerous proportions. The chimney fire is also a source of trouble at this time of year when roofs are dry, and it would be appreciated if everyone would exercise every precaution when handling any type of fire, be it cigarette or kitchen stove."

APPOINTMENTS

Military appointments announced today by Brigadier C. V. Stockwell, D.S.O., O.C. M.D. 11, at Work Point Barracks, are:

Col. Walter Bapty to be officer commanding Second Battalion, Canadian Scottish.

Col. James Lightbody reverts to rank of captain to succeed Major Longridge, who has been promoted to officer commanding at Otter Point.

Major W. C. Merston is named to the office of G.S.O. 3.

New Companies

Seven new provincial companies were incorporated this week, as follows:

Brooks Ranches Ltd., $250,000, Vancouver.

Southern Oils Ltd., 5,000 shares, Vancouver.

J. & C. Co. Ltd., $10,000, Vancouver.

Highland Sand & Gravel Co. Ltd., $50,000, Vancouver.

Coast Warehouse Ltd., 1,000 shares, Vancouver.

Mac's Motors Ltd., $35,000, Penticton.

Sams & Co. Ltd., $10,000, Vancouver.

The Vancouver Provincial Civil Service Credit Union was also registered this week.

A printing ink company says that the average person can think of only about 35 color names in five minutes, and only 12 will be clearly understood by other people.

Today's Motor Tourists

Victoria is well known in Florida, according to William Mawson, who is here on vacation with his wife and daughter, Virginia. "The 'Follow the Birds' sign boards are outstanding," he said. "They can be seen all over the state." The Mawson family live in Orlando, Florida. "I never realized that the weather up here was so mild," Mr. Mawson said when given Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau statistics on the average weather conditions of the city. "I always thought Florida and California were the only places you had warm weather the year round." Last year Mr. and Mrs. Mawson and their daughter visited Toronto on their vacation.

TOWN TOPICS

Victoria Clearing House officials report that bank clearings in the city for the week ending today were $2,125,367, in comparison with $1,875,079 for the corresponding period of last year.

A permit for a $5,300 single family eight-room dwelling was issued by the city building inspector's department today to Mrs. V. L. Wenger. The home will be built at 1310 Rockland Avenue.

Three drunks were fined when they appeared in the City Police Court before Magistrate Hall this morning. Two who admitted one previous conviction each were fined $50 or 10 days, and a first offender was fined $25.

A wood truck driven by Ajah Singh, 2650 Prior Street, turned over at Bay and Blanshard Streets last evening, according to a city police report, which said the Hindu swerved to avoid another truck at the intersection.

Cars driven by W. A. Hick, 1409 Hillside Avenue, and Allan Thirkell, 2505 Prior Street, were considerably damaged last evening in a collision at Fernwood Road and Haultain Street, according to a city police report. There were no personal injuries.

Speedy trial of James Scouler on the first of two narcotics charges laid against him opened before Judge H. H. Shandley in County Court today. In reply to the charge of illegal possession of a narcotic drug on or about March 31 he entered a plea of not guilty.

Monday's City Council meeting will open at 3 p.m. with a delegation presenting opposition to rezoning of a lot adjacent to the north-west corner of Cook and Fairfield for commercial purposes. Permission to have the delegation appear, requested by Mary Hamilton, was granted by Mayor Andrew McGavin today.

Alderman B. J. Gadsden has been authorized to do his uniform again by Col. G. C. Greer, acting adjutant quartermaster general. The alderman was not certain of the duties to be assigned to him and declined to comment on the possibility he might be established as liaison officer between the City Council and Military District No. 11. He will hold his old rank of captain.

Final details for the welcome dance of the Victoria High School Alumni Association were completed at a meeting of the executive of the association last night. The dance, which will be held tomorrow evening at the Crystal Ballroom, is intended to welcome graduating students of Victoria High School into the alumni association, as students are eligible for membership only after matriculating. The dance will feature Bert Zala's orchestra, Maxine High, vocalist, and the alumni dancers, who will demonstrate the work that they have been doing during their year's activities.

CHURCH PARADE SUNDAY

Capt. A. Gardiner, army chaplain for this area, today announced the plans for the Garrison Church parade at Work Point Barracks on Sunday at 9.30, to which the public is invited.

Scottish Change To Battle Dress

Kilts will disappear from the Streets of Victoria soon as the Canadian Scottish, equipping itself for war service, goes into battle dress.

Col. J. R. Kingham said this morning the troops will be put into the romper uniforms now as fast as possible.

New recruits are already being supplied with the battle dress. The old hands have their time-honored kilts, but as the new supplies of rompers arrive they will be issued.

When the Scottish leave for their next training centre they will all be stepping about in the brassard dress.

That settles the kilt issue for the troops, but it is expected that some of the officers, loyal to the tartan and the sporran, will take their old uniforms along to be used when not on actual service.

Another break for the troops is the announcement from Ottawa that men of the Canadian Active Service force may wear the battle dress blouse with the collar open during the summer. Officers will wear the drab collar and tie and other ranks will wear the regulation khaki shirt.

As the Scottish recruiting drive gained impetus today, reports reached headquarters that the response from upper island points has improved considerably in the last few days.

The recruiting office on Government Street is handling a few men every day, but not as many as the officers would like.

It was pointed out this morning that the new conscription law should make no difference to the Scottish. Compulsory service is to be for home defence only. The Scottish are listed for overseas service with the Third Canadian Division and enlistment for this service remains on a voluntary basis.

Gas Price Raise Not Confirmed

Rumors of a heavy increase in the price of gasoline, possibly as a result of federal war taxes, met with no confirmation in official provincial sources today.

"As far as we are concerned there is nothing to warrant an increase in gasoline prices now," said Dr. W. A. Carrothers, chairman of the Coal and Petroleum Products Control Board. "If anything the trend would be the other way following the recent reduction in Pacific Coast prices. However, we do not know what the federal government intends to do as a war measure. But we will learn when the budget comes down."

A government order today relieved Arthur C. Sutton, government agent at Rossland of his duties, so he could join the armed forces.

Two Shots Fired At Fleeing Soldier

W. G. McFadden, a soldier arrested after a speedy chase on foot through city streets by Constables Ray Maitland and Tom Banister, was convicted in the City Police Court this morning on a charge of breaking a store at 1817 Douglas Street, operated by Ernest Miller. He was remanded for sentence until tomorrow.

McFadden was arrested early on June 15 after he was seen to leave the premises by Constable Banister. During the chase by the constables two shots were fired by Constable Maitland but McFadden continued on his way, finally hiding in a bush where he was arrested by Banister.

Police said shot machines were overturned in the shop and considerable damage was caused by the breaking of sugar bowls and other articles.

McFadden did not give evidence.

CLAIM DISMISSED

The action of Lionel W. Stephenson against the personnel of the Brentwood Bay Parks Board for damages for trespass upon the plaintiff's lands and for tearing down his boathouse at Tod Inlet, was dismissed in a Supreme Court judgment handed down today by Mr. Justice Robertson.

"I think the words 'manage, regulate and control' confer upon the board power to tear down such a building," he said. "How could a board control a park if it had no power to remove buildings erected by a trespasser upon it?"

The judgment said in part, "Because I think the defendants were justified in law in what they did, I think the action must be dismissed, but without costs," it added.

The boathouse in question was built mainly on the foreshore, which became park property under a provincial government order-in-council. It was taken down on September 11, 1939, after other structures had been removed from the area. The action included a test of the order-in-council which was upheld in the judgment.

Defendants included William O. Wallace, Evans J. Sladen, Sewell P. Moody, Lorne Thomson and Robert W. Sluggett, all members of the board.

The late Mrs. Eddie was born in Perth, Scotland, and had been a resident of Victoria for the last 30 years. She is survived by one son, James, with whom she resided; three grandchildren, a niece in Victoria and a nephew in Nanaimo; also a sister in Australia. The funeral will be held at St. Joseph's Hospital, on Saturday, June 22, at 2 o'clock. Burial in the Royal Oak Burial Park.

They'll Do It Every Time

YOU ALL BETTER STAY HERE TONIGHT, HENRY, AND DRIVE DOWN EARLY IN THE MORNING. IT'LL BE DARK BEFORE YOU GET OVER THAT ROAD.

NOT THE WAY I DRIVE IT—(HIC!) CMON, FOLKS! LESH GO!!

GETTING READY TO DRIVE HOME WITH THE GUY WHO BROUGHT YOU, THEY'LL DO IT EVERY TIME

When a Feller Needs a Friend

'SECRETS OF A NURSE' PLAZA

Linking the secret lives of a criminal attorney, a beautiful nurse and a young boxer victimized by a gangster ring, Universal's "Secrets of a Nurse" provides the unusual dramatic film fare currently showing at the Plaza Theatre.

Edmund Lowe, Helen Mack and Dick Foran portray the leads in the film version of Quentin Reynolds' story.

The unusual triangular affair is highlighted when Lowe, as the lawyer, agrees to defend his young romantic rival in a courtroom drama that finds Foran on trial in an open-and-shut murder case. Lowe accepts the hopeless task, knowing that it will mean sacrifice of his own romantic aims and the end of his reputation as an invincible defense attorney.

'Swiss Robinson' Coming to Atlas

All the ingredients which make for perfect film entertainment—romance, comedy, pathos and exciting adventure—are said to be contained in RKO Radio's exciting screen version of "Swiss Family Robinson," coming to the Atlas Theatre tomorrow.

With most of its dramatic action transpiring on a beautiful tropical island where the intrepid Robinson family is obliged to carve out its own destiny, the famous century-old story is the type that appeals to all classes of filmgoers.

Ask Extradition Of Ex-President

KAUNAS (CP-Havas) — The new Lithuanian government has asked Germany to surrender for trial her former President, Antanas Smetona, and other officials who fled this week to the Reich after Soviet pressure had caused their overthrow.

(Smetona and other members of the former government have been interned at Koenigsberg, according to German sources.)

Foreign observers awaited Germany's reply to the request in the hope it would give some clue to the Reich's attitude toward the new Soviet policy in the Baltic.

In many quarters it was believed the Reich's attitude was demonstrated in reports of German troop movements in East Prussia and Memel. These movements coincided with an ever-increasing flow of Soviet forces into positions along the Lithuanian-German border.

In some circles it was believed Germany revealed its attitude in recalling a delegation that was en route to Kaunas to discuss the question of granting Lithuania access to the port of Memel. The delegation was ordered to return to Berlin immediately, cancelling any conferences for the time being.

The new Lithuanian Ministry of Justice yesterday freed 104 political prisoners.

'RENEGADE TRAIL' SHOWING AT RIO

Some of California's most startling scenery appears as background in the latest "Hopalong Cassidy" range romance, "Renegade Trail," which is showing today at the Rio Theatre. This story of ranchers' efforts to prevent a woman from being blackmailed by her own convict-husband was filmed at Lone Pine, California.

William Boyd, George Hayes and Russell Hayden head the cast, playing the dare-devil "Cassidy" and his two sidekicks, "Windy Halliday" and "Lucky Jenkins," respectively.

Edgar Wallace Film At Dominion Friday

One of the most thrilling stories from the pen of Edgar Wallace will be shown on the Dominion screen Friday. The film is the British production of "The Four Just Men," featuring Frank Lawton, Griffith Jones and Anna Lee.

Four brave men, each imbued with a passionate love of his country and the freedom for which it stands, band together in an unofficial counter-espionage system whose influence reaches every corner of the earth. The thrilling adventures they are led into provide grand entertainment.

The second feature on the Dominion screen will be "The Honey Moon Is Over," with Stuart Erwin and Marjorie Weaver.

'SHOP AROUND CORNER' CADET

Remembered for his hilarious performance as the lanky Russian commissar in "Ninotchka," Felix Bressart has repeated with another highlight comedy character—Margaret Sullivan and James Stewart, and opening today at the Cadet Theatre.

Ernst Lubitsch, who directed both films, selected Bressart for the role of Pirovitch in the warmly human story of a leather goods and novelty shop owner and his employees.

'INVISIBLE MAN' AT OAK BAY

The screen's unseen spectre stalks anew in Universal's "The Invisible Man Returns," eerie mystery, opening today at the Oak Bay Theatre, with Vincent Price in the title role. Sir Cedric Hardwicke, Nan Grey, John Sutton, Cecil Kellaway and Alan Napier have featured roles. Joe May directed.

OUT OUR WAY—

By Williams

Letters to the Editor

"PLAY OUR WAY—OUT OF UNEMPLOYMENT"

To the Editor:—Every effort on the part of the many different governments that this great country is afflicted with—is along the line of providing more activities—"more work" for its proportional small population. So far not much success has resulted from the amount of study and financial outlay in that direction. To be honest, humanity's destiny is not always to labor on, but to take time out to see and enjoy this wonderful creation. How many of us in this seaport capital have ever glimpsed the majestic wonder of the Pacific Ocean surf rolling in or our west coast, or seen the Forbidden Plateau, or voyaged on a passenger steamer all the way around this beautiful Vancouver Island.

In several progressive countries recreation, vacations, a release from toil is almost compulsory. It provides that antidote that every human needs, and if the holidays are spread over several months in the year by taking on those workers as supply to temporarily fill the positions of those on vacation—it would take up the present slack in employment to a great extent.

In answer to the question—where is the money to come from? We find the cash for bombs, so we can find the money to build up the health of our people. By catering to the play instinct of the race we could make more work. Think of the improvement it would be if we made our Dallas-front like the town of Seaside in the state of Oregon or the Gorge the same as the Northwest Arm in Halifax, N.S.

Lake, sea and forest, Niagara Falls, the Rocky Mountains, St. Lawrence River or that desired visit to Europe are calling. Let us go and rest awhile.

CHARLES L. CLARKE,
316 Douglas Street, City.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

By William Ferguson

ANSWER: The matchless sword of King Arthur, in the Arthurian Legends.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—I am confronted with the problem of choosing matrimony or a college education. I am 23 years old, a graduate of high school and am now employed at a factory job with definitely no future attached. If I marry, it means sticking to the job I have and being a common laborer 15 years from now as I am today.

Anyway, I haven't enough money to marry and live on comfortably even if I had no intention of furthering my education, hence I am determined to get an education in order that I may prepare myself for a better fate. But my girl is disappointed because I won't marry her right now. She feels that I am letting her down. She says I will forget her in the course of time and that I will be flirting with girls in school. She worries about what people will say about our not getting married, etc. What is your advice in the matter?

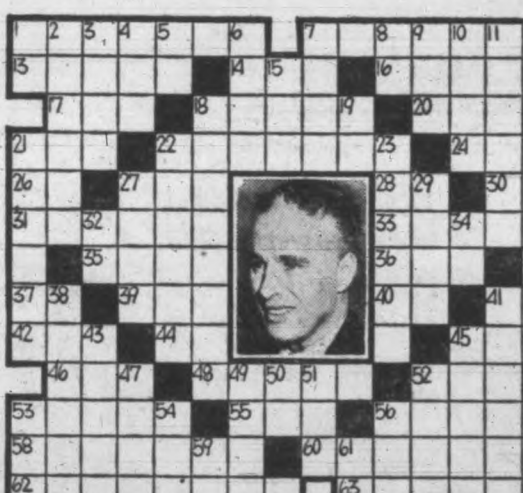

UNCERTAIN YOUNG MAN.

Answer: A college education is no magic that assures its possessor success. There are plenty of Ph.D.'s washing dishes, and leaning on shovels in WPA projects. And there are plenty of men who have little formal education who have risen from laborer's jobs to the seats of the mighty.

So don't delude yourself that all you need is a college degree to assure you fame and fortune. But, all the same, if you have that bee in your bonnet you are like the baby in the advertisement grabbing at the cake of soap, who, we are told, won't be happy until he gets it.

In any event, you are wise not to burden yourself with a family at your age and in your position if you are ambitious to rise in the world. A man earning a small salary who has a wife and children to support is almost hopelessly handicapped and cannot win to his goal unless he is possessed of actual genius.

ALL YOUNG SWANS BELIEVED STOLEN

The last of seven cygnets hatched at Beacon Hill this year disappeared this week, W. H.
Warren, city park superintendent, informed the parks committee yesterday. He indicated the young swans had been stolen.

His statement followed an announcement of continued van-dalsism in the parks including destruction of equipment, birds, shrubs, flowers and trees to the extent of $160 during the month.

A reward of $25 was posted for information leading to the arrest and conviction of any person committing willful damage in the parks.

The rewards were suggested by Alderman S. H. O'Neil, parks board chairman.

The committee, following a suggestion from Alderman W. H.
Davies that the city present a royal swan to Portland, instructed that alderman to communicate with the Oregon city to determine whether or not such a gift would be acceptable.

The superintendent and city solicitor were asked to prepare a brief history of Beacon Hill Park to be inscribed on a wooden plaque.

The committee ordered 30 flower baskets to be hung on Johnson Street between Douglas and Government, and called for similar baskets outside the Windermere and Westholme Hotels.

To help clean up the beaches,
the committee decided to circu-larize residents of Gonzales Bay asking them not to throw garden refuse over the bank above the beach.

The tender of Luney Brothers Limited to move a dressing-room at Beacon Hill to the cricket ground at a cost $135 was accepted; the Victoria Highland Games Association secured use of Macdonald Park for a reduced percentage of the gate and an offer of the Pro Patria Branch, Canadian Legion, to hold a concert in Beacon Hill July 14 was accepted.

Americans Would Fight

VANCOUVER (CP) — More

during the last few months, according to officials.

"There is no rule against our enlisting Americans," said Flight Lieut. L. R. Bawlf, chief recruiting officer. "We are taking their applications but, naturally, we are giving our own men preference."

of Macdonald Park for a reduced percentage of the gate and an

accepted.

"There is no rule against our

Exodus From War Zone

British Children Coming Here Soon

OTTAWA (CP)—Across Canada a wholehearted welcome awaits the arrival of refugee children from the United Kingdom.

British plans call for the sending of a first contingent of 10,000 school children to Canada within two or three weeks, and according to information here Canadians, anxious to receive these youngsters, are becoming impatient.

The British plans have been submitted to the Canadian government and authorities here have been deluged with offers of homes for these overseas children fleeing the war zone.

The present scheme calls for evacuation to Canada of children between 5 and 16 years of age.
They will come with consent of their parents and remain in the Dominion for the duration of the war.

TO BE EDUCATED

Already organization work has gone far in preparation for the juvenile immigration and in the House of Commons yesterday the resources minister, Hon. T. A.
Crerar, charged with directing it, said, "There are either on the way or shortly will be on the way quite a substantial number of boys from a school who are coming to resume their education."

Since last September the Canadian National Committee on Refugees has been filling away in its records the names of those Canadians wanting to shelter these refugees.

This stock-taking of Canadian compassion has gone on under the direction of Senator Cairine Wilson of Ottawa, chairman of the committee, who reported today that letters she has received indicate virtually everybody wants to help.

PLACED BY PROVINCES

The federal health department will examine the children overseas and supervise their health en route. Then provincial authorities will have charge of placing them in co-operation with welfare organizations.

Typical of Canadian reaction was the word from Mrs. G. M.
Murray, wife of the Liberal member of the British Columbia Legislature for Lillooet. She notified Senator Wilson that 10,000 refugee children from England
"could be immediately absorbed" in British Columbia alone.

Manitoba, it is expected, may be able to accommodate between 2,000 and 5,000 new children and organization work there is far advanced under Public Health Minister Griffiths and his deputy,
Dr. F. W. Jackson. In Winnipeg more than 1,000 homes have already been inspected and approved for reception of refugees.

Across the country women's organizations and social and child welfare bodies have swung into action. Hundreds of homes are waiting for new occupants in Alberta, Saskatchewan and Ontario.

IMMIGRATION BOARD

LONDON (CP)—Great Britain yesterday created a "children's Overseas Reception Board" to handle "balanced migration" of British children to overseas havens, including Canada.

Announcing establishment of the new organization in the House of Commons, Clement Atlee, Lord Privy Seal, told the nation removal of part of Britain's child population is a "matter of utmost urgency."

The board is headed by Georgey Shakespeare, Parliamentary Under-Secretary for the Dominions. It proposes to send—possibly as permanent residents—as many as 10,000 British school-age youngsters as parents will part with for the sake of their present safety, as many as available ships can carry and overseas reception areas would be prepared to take.

Canada is said to be inquiring for 10,000, Australia for 5,000,
New Zealand for 500 and South Africa for "several thousand."

United States requests have come from various unnamed associations eager to undertake the placing of British refugee children. No estimate of the number wanted is available.

Premature estimates in the British press were that 200,000 children could be moved. Informed persons said it was not anticipated any such number could be transferred quickly in view of the war's demand on shipping.

PAYMENT FOR UPKEEP

Only children under 16 are eligible. If they belong to grant-aided schools their transportation will be free. Otherwise parents must pay a rate of about $60 to Canada or $80 to Australia. Once the children have arrived in reception areas their parents would contribute on the basis of ability to pay, or pay six shillings (about $1.20) weekly per child.

Japan Looking To Indo-China

TOKYO (AP)—The Tokyo press unanimously adopted a sharper tone today in discussing French Indo-China and the newspaper Asahi raised the question of Japanese control of "important points" unless Indo-China's munitions traffic with China is stopped.

(A Hongkong dispatch yesterday said the French Indo-China government was reported to have banned shipment on the Yunnan railway, one of the main arteries for the supply of war materials to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.)

The Asahi said that if the munitions traffic were not stopped "it may be inevitable that certain important points in Indo-China should be placed in control of Japanese forces until the overthrow of Chiang Kai-shek."

It was reported that Vice-foreign Minister Masayuki Tani, who had an interview yesterday with French Ambassador Charles Arsene Henry, had demanded strict supervision of munitions, including the stationing of Japanese patrols at Hanoi, Lahai and Liangnan to inspect shipments.

At the same time, Domei, Japanese news agency, reported that Gen. Kuniaki Koiso, one of the army's key generals and overseas minister, delivered "important advice" regarding Japan's southwest policy in an interview with Premier Admiral Mitsumasa Yonai.

Powerful political factions urged the Japanese government to occupy "protectively" the rich Indo-China area before any collapse of the French empire.

Earl's Heirs Missing After France Battle

LONDON (CP)—The Earl of Hopton, 28, heir to the Marquess of Lintthgow, Viceroy of India, is missing after serving with the British forces in France, according to an announcement.
Viscount Brackley, 25, heir to the Earl of Ellesmere, also is missing. Lord Brackley was a brother-in-law of the Duke of Northumberland, who was killed in Flanders.

The Admiralty announced
Capt. Lionel Lambert, 66, brother and heir to Field Marshal the Earl of Cavan, was killed in the evacuation through Dunkerque.
He was commanding officer of the fleet air arm tender Grive, which was sunk.

The Admiralty corrected a statement of June 3 which said that Lieut. C. E. West, commander of the Grive, had died.
Actually the tender was commanded by Capt. Lambert.

SEEK NEW BASES FOR U.S. FLEETS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Establishment of Latin-American bases for the United States navy, a usually well-informed source said today, may be one of the subjects raised at the projected Pan-American conference on hemisphere problems of military and economic defence.

Both aircraft and fleet bases would be involved in any such discussion, this official said.

Under-Secretary of States Sumner Welles announced yesterday that the government had communicated with all 21 American republics, suggesting an extraordinary conference be held immediately to consider all problems confronting the hemisphere as a result of the turn of events abroad.

The conference proposal was made known after Secretary Hull had disclosed that notes had been sent Monday to Germany and Italy saying the United States would not countenance any transfer of the British, French or Dutch possessions in the New World to a non-American country.

Mexico Increases Armed Forces

MEXICO CITY (AP)—A high source declared today President Lazaro Cardenas had approved a program which would more than quadruple Mexico's armed forces with the aid of the United States.

This source asserted that within a few weeks a credit of more than $10,000,000 from the United States would be made available to the Mexican government to carry out this expansion under 60 technical experts from the United States army and navy.

Additional millions would be allocated later by the Mexican finance ministry, it was reported.

It is said that the left hand freezes more rapidly than the right hand.

Pearson Defends Labor Standard

NANAIMO (CP)—Hon. George
S. Pearson, provincial Minister of Labor, warned members of the Associated Boards of Trade of Vancouver Island at their annual convention dinner here last night under Duncan MacBride, president, of the "necessity of defending the standard of living of workers in the province."

"The only justification of allowing a break down in war plants under federal rules, could be offset by the urgency of resisting dictators," he said.

"The whole policy of the future must be colored by the overhanging calamity in Europe, but business men should set an example in standing up to their problems and facing them fairly and fully, in the light of condi-

As commissioner of fisheries,
Mr. Pearson drew attention to the problems presented by the sale of the salmon pack this year, owing to many of the principal purchasing countries being unable to buy under present conditions, and the difficulty of sale at competitive prices with other countries producing.

Mr. Pearson also spoke on the seriousness of the lumber trade situation in view of shipping difficulties.

Mr. Pearson suggested that revenue only "would be available from taxation this year, as the province would be unable to borrow, and therefore all provincial services would have to be carefully checked." He said road programs "would probably suffer."

Mr. Pearson said no firm commitment was made for a breach of minimum wage regulations.
He explained the workings of the War Measures Act, which, he said, could temporarily put provincial legislation aside for purposes of investigation if necessary, but the provincial laws of the Hours of Work Act and Minimum Wage Act still held.

"In enforcing these laws," said
Mr. Pearson, "we insist war work take precedence over all, but we see that the employers do not take advantage. Wages have never been forced to a point where they would cramp industry in British Columbia, but the same favorable conditions do not prevail in some other provinces for industries, and an effort is being made by them to force down the British Columbia standards."

ROADS CURTAILED

Referring to local conditions and the need for more money for roads, Mr. Pearson said that for many years the Dominion government had been generous, they had gone 50-50 on money for road work, for youth training camps, mining roads and trails and the Trans-Canada Highway, but this year the federal Minister of Finance had called a halt and outside of some help for the youth training and possibly to complete one or two road projects now under way, there will be no more federal help for this year.

"All we spend this year," said
Mr. Pearson, "must be taken out of current revenue, or we must borrow it, and most of the avenues are blocked for borrowing money."

"The revenue of the province this year will be exceptionally large from liquor profits, motor licenses and income tax, but we still have our relief problem. It is by no means solved by increased work in industries. Many men are too old to take any work that offers. Shipyard workers are wanted, but how many," queried the speaker, "experienced shipyard workers have we out of a job? Unskilled men are not wanted by the shipyards, which prefer to work overtime with trained workers than to take on additional green men. Another difficulty is that where work is offered in many cases a married man must leave his family behind and his wages do not pay for their removal from place to place to fill temporary jobs."

CO-OPERATION URGED

Duncan MacBride, of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, spoke on the co-operation on Vancouver Island. He stressed the necessity of co-operation for the development of the island, visioning a future population of 2,000, 000 people "after we have put Hitler and all other would-be di-tators where they belong."

Assistant Named To Air Minister

OTTAWA (CP)—Malcolm Mc-Lean, former Liberal member of Parliament for Melfort, Sask., has been named special assistant to Hon. C. G. Power, Minister of Defence for Air and acting Minister of National Defence.

Some of Mr. McLean's duties will be to act as liaison officer between the minister and members of the House of Commons, giving information on the Commonwealth Air Training Plan.
